

Medina Oil Expands

SPARKS

By Bill Berger

Weather and markets have been a heavy blow, and the only consolation we have is that it could be worse. The area last week passed with no rain in 36 months. That is three years. About 36 months ago they got some rain, but not a lot. Their city supply was down to 32 inches when that rain fell, and if ever drank from a mighty pond, you know that water is not much at that stage. The area has just about finished a 20-year drought. The Brazos river, they think there will be some water during the winter. It is up their city reservoir. It is estimated that the city of Mineral has $300,000 to build this pipe, but it was a case of build or move out. The way back from Mineral is a drive through an area where they had too much rain a few months ago. Near Fredericksburg, 25 inches fell all at once. It moved top soil down to the bottom of some of the farms. The trees along the creek were rooted out as if by a bulldozer, and carried for miles down stream. Some of the trees that were formerly tree-trunks looked like barren drainage canals. A man who was standing by the window when the storm building fell on the coffee shop across the street in Waco, long ago. They got a good rain, but the survivors have been glad to take a rain if they could have been. It is not trying to sit here and say we have nothing to worry about. I just thought you might like to reflect on things that have happened to us.

Farm Bureau To Sponsor Contest

Medina County Farm Bureau is sponsoring a county-wide Queen Contest to select a Queen who represents this County in the Statewide Queen Contest sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau organization, according to D. B. president. The purpose of the contest is the recognition to the beauty, intelligence and vivaciousness of the farm and ranch girls of Medina County and also to give rural youth an opportunity to become acquainted with the principles and philosophies of the Farm Bureau organization. This is an "honest-to-goodness" Queen Contest, and not merely a beauty affair. The girls are judged on three main points: (1) appearance, (2) poise, (3) personality, qualities that make up a winsome Texas Homemaker. The contest is open to any girl or sister of a Farm Bureau member who is single, between the ages of 16 and 22 years on September 1, 1953 and not older than September 1, 1953. Sisters of state directors, county officers and county directors are not eligible to enter the contest.

Burden, Public Accountant of San Antonio, present to give the financial report of the city, the fiscal year ending on April 30. Mr. Rutledge said that the city could be proud of its financial standing. Out of $1.00 revenue from electricity, only 55c is spent for expenses; out of $1.00 revenue from water, only 36c is spent for expenses. However, the cost of water installation is greater; combining the two sources of revenue, the ratio is almost 50c revenue and 50c expenses.

Castroville Opens New Division

CASTROVILLE — Work has started on clearing the streets preparatory to laying water main and electric lines to the new residential block developing in the south-west end of town. 3 houses have been started, and 3 more of the original group are planning to build. The water level is lowering according to Mr. Lafferty, but he believes Castroville water consumers will not be asked to ration their use of water for lawns etc., this summer.

There are 334 electric customers, 333 water customers. Building permits netted $20.00. The council voted to purchase a new type of street light for use on the bridge lighting system on the recommendation of Manager Pat Lafferty, who stated they would be easier to install and last longer. The City Council also voted to increase the insurance on the City Office building and supplies. A motion was made and carried that the graduated speed zone recommended by the State Highway Department be used in Castroville. The speed zone will begin at the edge of the city limits at 50 miles and decrease to 40 miles an hour throughout town. A similar system has been adopted by almost all towns and has been found more effective in cutting down speed.

Postal Box Rent Down

According to new instructions just published by the post office department, an amendment is to be made to the new post office box rent rates for Hondo as published in last week's Anvil Herald. In any instance where there has been a change in gross postal receipts for the preceding calendar year that results in the post office being placed in a higher bracket, postmasters are authorized to use the present postal receipt bracket for application of the new box rent rates schedule for the following year in order to avoid a double rate increase to box patrons. This being the case at the Hondo post office, the following box rent rates will become effective July 1, 1953, instead of those published last week. Small box, 90c. No. 2 size, $1.10, and Drawer $1.50.

The following recognition of merit for T-SGT. FRANK CARRASCO, JR., was just received by The Anvil Herald, from Lt. Col. Green B. Hansen. SGT. CARRASCO is married to the former Ada Pichot, and he has been stationed in Japan for the past nine months, and expects to remain there for 9 months more.

1. Under the provisions of 483d Troop Carrier Wing (M), Regulation 900-5, dated 2 June 1952, Technical Sergeant Frank Carrasco, Jr., AF 18 044 113, 483d Food Service Squadron, 483d Air Base Group, is proudly nominated for the Airman of the Month Award.

2. Technical Sergeant Carrasco has been assigned as Dining Hall Steward in the Airmen's Consolidated Dining Hall for a period of nine (9) months. During this time, he has shown a high degree of proficiency, not only supervising activities in the Dining Hall, but in the duties of a Non-Commissioned Officer as well.

3. For approximately seven (7) months, there has been no qualified Food Service Officer assigned to the Food Service Squadron. During this period, T-Sgt. Carrasco has not only performed the duties of Dining Hall Steward, but those of the Mess Officer as well.

4. In addition to being responsible for and supervising all the military personnel assigned to duties in the Airmen's Consolidated Dining Hall, he supervises 130 Japanese Nationals working in the capacities of kitchen help, supervisors, waitresses, etc. The manner in which he directs these personnel through Japanese supervisors reflects a great deal of credit in the eyes of the Japanese people.

5. T-Sgt. Carrasco directs and is responsible for feeding from 2300 to 3400 airmen at each meal. This he accomplishes in a dining hall designed to accommodate 600 airmen.

Along with the duties of supervision of the Airmen's Consolidated Dining Hall which consumes from 10 to 14 hours per day, T-Sgt. Carrasco is also a squadron representative to the Group Airmen's Council. He is a member of the Squadron Unit Fund Council, Ground Safety NCO Squadron Promotion Board, and Character Guidance Council. He participates 100 per cent in the I & E athletic programs of the squadron. On frequent occasions he is scheduled to give talks Hq. 483d AB, 483d Trp Carr Wg (M), APO 73, ABCO 201.22, Subject: Recommendation for Airman of the Month Award for the I & E program.

7. T-Sgt. Carrasco has 12 years service of which 9 years have been in the Food Service Career Field. He has 7 years experience as a Dining Hall Steward.

8. T-Sgt. Carrasco is ever conscious of his duty as a Non-Commissioned Officer in the squadron. His personal habits and appearance are an ever present good example to the airmen within this organization. The firm yet understanding manner with which he handles personnel problems is in the highest standards of an Air Force Non-Commissioned Officer. He is very successful in working with others and is outstanding in directing others into a very effective team. He grasps difficult situations quickly, has a thorough knowledge of the service, and is capable of increasing responsibilities. He displays a high degree of self confidence. Airmen possessing his capabilities are in constant demand by the Air Force.

9. It is with reservation that I recommend T-Sgt. Carrasco for this award in recognition of a job well done.

YOU'LL FIND IT IN THE WANTADS

Personal Appearance

If you were listening to your radio, station KONO, at 12:30 last Saturday, you would have heard a delegation from Hondo discussing general farm conditions and 4-H Club work in Medina County. The delegation was made up of C. B. GASTON, GEORGE KOCH, GEORGE ILSE, V. H. NEUMANN, BUTCH WOOLLS, JOHN WALTER MEYER, WILLIAM REUS, DONNIE NEUMAN and HARTLEY HOWARD.

At 4 o'clock Friday morning, a group of Camp Fire Girls will board cars for the trip to Camp Val Verde in McGregor, Texas. The Camp Fire Girls, RUTH ANN CROW, VIRGINIA CLEMENTS, BARBARA FAYE CLEMENTS, DIANE POPE, MARY POPE, CONNIE SCHWEERS, BARBARA BRUCKS, CAROL ANN RATH, and PAMELA STRICKLAND will be gone for 10 days. They're all sporting new uniforms.

W. J. SCHWEERS has returned from attending the 4-H Club Round-Up held at A&M this past week. Only one boy from each county attended the conference.

The A. G. HOLLAWAYS were among those who attended the beautiful wedding of Caroline Mogford and Jack Hardeman in Uvalde last Friday evening.

The SPARKS have just returned from Montana where they got in a SNOW STORM last week. CHARLES NEY is home from the University for the summer. CHARLES will be a junior in the school of architecture this coming year, and a senior student.

PAULINE and EARNEST BRITSCH "adopted" themselves a little girl this past week. KATHERINE MARIE VINCENT stayed with them while her parents were on a trip, and liked staying with the BRITSCHES so much she could hardly make up her mind to go back home when her folks got back.

Best un-snapped picture of the week, BOB KOLLMAN at 7:00 A. M. showing his yard man how to operate the new electric lawn mower which BOB had just purchased. You never saw such a waving of arms, and such take-offs down the grass. It all ended up without injuries for anyone, and the yard man thought it was "muy fino, muy fino."

MARTIN NOONAN and FRANK VANCE have taken off with cots, canned beans, etc., for the wilds of Big Bend and the Davis Mountains. Bears beware.

When BOBBY HARDY had a "luncheon" for just a few of his buddies, he informed his mother there were to be no women invited. BOBBY lost, and it seems the party must have been a great success, as we saw a few of the guests and they were really all tucked out after the soiree.

The list of unusually pretty little girls in Medina County could go on and on, but we know of one that is mighty near the top of the list, and is a perfect example of the Texas type beauty we're always reading about. Her name is MARY THERESA FINGER, daughter of MELVIN and KAY FINGER of D'Hanis.

We know of a case in Hondo where the TELEPHONE COMPANY OPERATORS should be given dozens and dozens of roses, and blessings. It was through their efforts that a little boy got his dog on his birthday. For 3 days, the different operators called every 15 minutes to find the owner of the puppies, and when time got short, they tracked him down in San Antonio. The owner was contacted at 1:30 Saturday afternoon, the little boy's party began at three o'clock, and the dog arrived at five minutes after three. Heading the "little boy is going to have his dog" committee was MRS. CECILIA KOCH.

JAY MACMANUS is scooting around town on the ice truck these days, quite a change from his usual duties on the old AKA-93, otherwise known as the USS Yancey. He is back in Hondo from Sasebo, Japan, for a few weeks of leave but still has another year and a half to serve in the navy.

Broom And Broom Corn News

In the Tuesday, June 7th issue of Broom and Broom Corn News there appeared the following report, "In driving the Hondo and Devine districts last Sunday, we found very few fields that will make an average yield. Some fields we saw will not make a ton on 50 acres and doubt, in such cases, that they will be harvested. The only favorable spot we found is in the Charlotte community and that is nothing to brag about."

"The young broom corn which is about 18 inches in height will make it if rain is not delayed more than two weeks but without moisture in that period, you can kiss that broom corn goodbye." The report was made by J. L. Beck of Beeville, Texas.

Warehouse Law Passed For Crop Storage

AUSTIN — The Texas grain farmer now for the first time has adequate protection for his crops held in storage, according to Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White.

Because of the Public Grain Warehouse Bill, passed during the recent 53rd legislative session, a depositor of grain in a public warehouse has his commodities insured against fire, theft, misappropriation, damage due to careless handling, or acts of God, White stated.

Also, for the first time, the farmer may use his stored grain receipts from state bonded warehouses as negotiable security.

In commenting on the bill, White said, "This was a long-needed piece of legislation. I am particularly grateful to Mr. J. J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation; Mr. C. H. DeVaney, vice-president; Mr. Loys Barbour, Farm Bureau director, and many others for their assistance in helping make this law a reality."

The state farm organization, representing more than 180 organized counties, maintained a legislative office in the state capital this year for the first time. This office was staffed by DeVaney and Barbour, both farmers.

The new warehouse law, introduced by Rep. W. R. Chamber of May and Senator Andy Rogers of Childress, requires that all public warehousemen, not previously licensed by the federal government, secure a license from the Texas Department of Agriculture. Insurance to fully cover all grain in storage also is required.

The warehouseman further protects his customers by obtaining a bond not less than $5,000 nor more than $50,000; the amount being at the discretion of the Commissioner of Agriculture.

The Story Of Oil In Texas

Here in the United States we use ten times as much mechanical energy as the rest of the world, and oil and gas, called the petroleum twins, provide a large proportion of that energy. At this time, petroleum currently supplies about 60 per cent of our mineral energy. Coal, once America's No. 1 source of energy, dropped far behind as a competitive.

Spindletop 1901

In 1901 a well being drilled for oil in a cow pasture near Beaumont came in as the world's first "gusher," marking the birth of the Texas oil industry and the dawn of the machine age. Spindletop brought forth oil in quantities never believed possible, and with it a year pipe lines, ports, and tanker ships provided the answer, by delivering oil from Texas ports to all the world.

In the 1920's, East Central Texas, West Texas, and the Panhandle were the scene of important oil discoveries, and in 1931 came the discovery of the great East Texas field followed by many others.

Comanche

Here in Texas there has been a great deal of romance attached to the naming of the fields or particular wells. The Comanche series was named from the town of Comanche in Comanche County, which originally came from the famous Indian tribe that once roamed through Texas and adjoining areas. It is a group of Cretaceous formations providing some of the nation's most substantial oil fields.

Edwards Plateau

Highly valuable in Louisiana, but more so on our Texas Gulf Coast, is the famous Frio formation. The name "Frio," which means "cold" in Spanish, comes from the Frio River. Towards the center of the state, Edwards limestone is the formation from which several fields produce. The limestone was named for the Edwards Plateau, which had originally been named for Haden H. Edwards, an early Texan who fought in the state's battle for independence and served as representative to the First Congress of the Republic. The Luling, Darst Creek, Salt Flat, Imogene, and Charlotte fields produce from the Edwards.

Woodbine Sand

Woodbine sand is the famous formation in East Texas, responsible for production in the vast East Texas and Hawkins fields. Outcrops at the small town of Woodbine, in Cooke County, are the basis for its name. Woodbine sand is equivalent in part to the Tuscaloosa of Alabama.

Canyon, Cisco, Strawn

There are three groups of sands and limestone, Canyon, Cisco and Strawn, which are the key to much of the production in North Texas, one of the oldest oil-producing areas of the state. All 3 are named after Texas towns.

Thrifty, Gunsight

Under these three are some of

Rains Lift Bass Hatch In W. Texas

AUSTIN—Now that the rains have come again to at least some parts of West Texas, many drought-blighted activities are being resumed.

Among these, according to the Chief Aquatic Biologist of the Game and Fish Commission, is the State Fish Hatchery at San Angelo. In fact, he considers what the hatchery has recently rallied to do to be among the better wildlife success stories following the original downpour in early March.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist said the hatchery which had faced abandonment, quickly capitalized on the timely water supply so effectively that approximately 5 million black bass have been hatched and already distributed. And it's a near record production for that hatchery.

He credited Supt. Luke Proctor of the San Angelo Hatchery with handling the amazing comeback.

In the face of talk about moving his parent fish to another hatchery, Proctor had been struggling to pump in enough water to preserve his precious brood bass when it began raining the second week in March. Actually, when Proctor's rearing ponds caught water, a few bass had already spawned. These comparatively few eggs were lost and Proctor now says that was a good idea since the early crop would have perished on the later hatch.

Proctor and his crew, using pickup trucks with aerated tanks, have distributed roughly 5 million black bass fry to the big lakes and new lakes in the 37 central west Texas counties in his district, and to some counties in adjoining districts. He soon will deliver a shipment of number one fingerling bass to the El Paso and Davis Mountain area and will retain about half a million bass to raise to the five-inch fingerling size for fall delivery.

the most colorfully named strata in the state. Thrifty, a part of the Cisco series, was named for a village in Brown County, Texas. When the town was founded in 1868, it was named for the industrious spirit and frugality of the settlers. Gunsight, another Cisco stratum, received its name from a town in Stephens County, which had been named for the nearby Gunsight Mountains. The mountains looked to early Texans "as straight as a gun barrel, with a projecting peak representing the gunsight," according to history books. Still another Cisco member, Nimrod, was called after a town in Eastland County where a Biblical character was inspiration for the name.

Wizard Wells

In the Canyon series there are the Ranger and Wizard Wells sands, Ranger named for a Texas Ranger camp, and Wizard Wells because flowing mineral wells close by were supposed by the occupying Kiowa Indians to have medicinal value.

San Andres Lime

In West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico, the Yates Field was named after the man on whose land the field was found. The Watson and Slaughter fields are from San Andres Limestone, named for the San Andres Mountains. The name is Spanish for "Saint Andrew."

Ellenburger Limestone

In the Hendricks Field the formation is called Seven Rivers which originated in New Mexico. Ellenburger limestone, named for the Ellenburger Hills in Burnet County, Texas, is the producing zone in the Big Lake and Yarbrough and Allen fields.

Devonian Formation

In West Texas there is a growing field which is referred to as the Devonian formation, named for the province of Devonshire in England, where formations of that time were studied more than a century ago.

A name becomes "legal" for a formation when a geologist, or someone else concerned with the field, describes it and uses his term in published matter or in some other form of work. If the name "sticks" it will soon become common usage in geological circles, and will occur in bulletins such as those put out by the United States Geological Survey.

There are often conflicting interpretations, however, as to the naming of a field or well, and these arguments have been known to last for years.

Port of Houston

It is interesting to know that the Port of Houston is the world's greatest oil port, and the nation's second port, New York being the first. Today various pipe lines deliver some 735,000 barrels of petroleum a day to the Port's refineries and docks. The Port's refineries can process about 570 thousand barrels of crude oil a day. With oil shipments increasing yearly, the Port of Houston earned the rank of second port in the nation in 1948, and about three-fourths of it is petroleum products.

Other ports in Texas are Beaumont, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Freeport, Galveston, Ingleside, Orange, Port Aransas, Port Arthur, Port Isabel, Port Lavaca, Sabine Pass and Texas City.

These Texas ports perform a vital service to the state and surrounding states to the north and west. This area produces a prodigious amount of raw materials, vastly more than its population can use, and the Texas ports are its doorways to the markets of the world.

40 Per Cent of National Supply

Texas produces about 40 per cent of our national supply of crude oil, and these harbors today are the United States' most important oil ports. Some 400 thousand barrels of crude oil and petroleum products are shipped out by tanker and barge each day, accounting for more than half of the Texas ports' traffic.

Today the Ship Channel in Houston, which was once a bayou is a magnificent "avenue of industry" includes six refineries, 20 chemical plants, a steel mill, a pipe mill, four synthetic rubber plants, a ship repair yard, and many other major plants.

$1,000,000,000 Investment

Capital investment in these plants exceeds a billion dollars, and building is still going on with plans for expansion of industry on the channel to run into millions of dollars, and Port Houston's combination of "water and oil" continues to bring in new industries.

Channel To Be Widened

There is a $21 million plan to again widen the channel and to deepen it to 40 feet. Larger oil tankers, defense super-tankers, are being constructed to transport more oil, and the projected improvements will open the doors of the Port of Houston to these great new ships. Port authorities have estimated that the flow of petroleum through the port will jump 20 million tons in the ten years, and that development of the petrochemicals may make Houston the world's leading chemical port.

And Medina County may find itself a part of this petrochemical industry, with the coming production there will come laying-in of bigger pipe lines channel the oil to all parts of the world.

CREEP FEED YOUR CALVES

Here is an example:

Common grass-fed calves are now selling from 10 cents to 16 cents a pound. Creep fed calves are selling from 17 cents to 23 cents a pound. Suppose we had a grass weaning calf weighing 350 lbs. at 10 cents a pound. He would be worth $35.00

Now let's feed that calf to a weight of 500 lbs., which will require approximately 600 lbs. of creep feed at $3.25 a hundred or a feed cost of $19.50

Cost of fed calf then would be (not including labor) $54.50

Let's sell this 500 lb. calf at 22 cents a pound. He will be worth $110.00

Deduct value of calf and the feed $54.50

Leaves profit over feeding operations (less labor) $55.50

"Each dollar spent on creep feed under present market conditions will return the feeder approximately $2.00!"

1901 Lytle Baseball Team

If you were a baseball fan back in 1901, you'll recognize some of these faces, because it's a team of men that traveled by train or wagon to play ball, sometimes going all the way to Hondo or beyond.

In these days the catcher wore a mask but no other protection, and all the men played barehanded except the pitcher and catcher.

H. D. CLUB NEWS

Yearbook Committee: Mrs. G. C. McAnelly and Mrs. Francis Echtle met with the home demonstration agent to plan the 1954 programs for the yearbooks on Monday, June 15. Mrs. Ray Keith is on vacation and was unable to attend. A second meeting will be held on July 13 at 1:00 P. M.

Recipe of the Week: Orange Eggnog. Beat one egg well and add 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 cup orange juice and 1 tablespoon light corn syrup. Mix thoroughly and chill. Serve ice cold. A mount 1 glass. Have for supper: Assorted Cold meats, scalloped potatoes and stuffed onions, sliced tomatoes, bread, orange eggnog, lemon sugar and cookies.

Kill Those Ants: Many housewives are aggravated by pesky ants in their pantries, cabinets and on their food supplies. Household ants can be controlled fairly easily by spraying the interior of the house where they are commonly seen with a 2 per cent chlordane household spray. Spray around windows and doors where ants may enter and around water pipe fittings and sinks where these insects may come for water. For a permanent control treat the outside premises of the house and foundation to destroy the colonies. A thorough application of 5 per cent chlordane—either dust or spray applied on the ground for a distance of 3 to 4 feet from the house will kill ants before they can invade the house. Chlordane is available at feed and drug stores everywhere.

Keep Those Chickens Producing and Growing: Even chickens like to be comfortable and have things convenient. They not only like water clean and cool, but they like it handy. Check the location of your fountains and add more if they are needed.

Sometimes it is necessary to give medicine to a flock in the drinking water, but he warns there is danger in doing it. Some drugs just don't taste good to chickens and they may quit drinking water. Unless they drink lots of water, there'll be fewer eggs and less meat produced.

Eggs For Breakfast: Breakfast is a good meal for that one-egg a-day suggested by the Texas Food Standard. It ranks high in protein, Vitamin A, Vitamin B, and Vitamin D, as well as iron and phosphorus. Eggs are included in reducing diets because they are low in calories. Eggs for breakfast can prevent a mid-morning let-down. Include them in your breakfast menu.

Baked Potato: For that baked potato—an easy way to prepare them, heat your oven to 350 degrees F. Place the potatoes on a grate or in a baking pan. Other vegetables suitable for baking are onions, beets, squash, carrots, corn in husks, stuffed or plain tomatoes, stuffed peppers and egg plant.

Science Aids Fish Habits

ROCKPORT — Nature's effort to restore fish life along the Texas coast may get a lift from the Men of Science.

Recent interest along the Gulf areas has been focused on the comeback of trout and other species which were hard hit by a severe freeze two years ago last January.

Now the Chief Marine Biologist of the Texas Game and Fish Commission and his staff are beginning work designed to improve the habitat of favorite sports fish.

In a statement, he said: "We are starting a program of planting marine types of vegetation in order to attempt the establishment of nursery grounds for redfish and trout."

"Several causes might be attributed to the diminishing areas of nursery grounds for these species. It is felt that this one factor may be the cause, but the combined factors such as the drought conditions and increased industrial activities in the bays could be responsible."

"We plan to plant Ruppia, commonly known as widgeon grass, and Acetabularia, known as the mermaid's wine glass in areas where nursery grounds were known to have occurred in the past."

"If it is possible for us to establish these nursery grounds, undoubtedly there will be tremendous increases in the population of both young trout and young redfish. The increase in these fish, however, would not be felt before the spring of 1954."

HURRICANES DEFEAT DILLEY 39-6

The Hondo Hurricanes lived up to their name last Friday night when they swept over Dilley 39 to 6 at the latter's diamond. The Hurricanes went on a batting rampage in the second inning, pushing 20 runs across the plate. This was the second league win for Hondo.

Nell Nixon contributed the only home run in the first inning. The Hurricanes will meet the Devine Arabians on Friday night the 19th.

Bears Defeated 5-4 By Seguin

The Hondo Bears dropped their second game with the Seguin Aztecs Saturday night by the score of 5 to 4, the same score they lost by two weeks ago. Pilo Rameriz hurled the full route for the Bears, allowing 7 hits, while his team mates gathered 6 off the opposing pitchers.

Saurez of the Aztecs was the leading hitter with 3 safeties, while Perez of the Bears connected for two singles out of 4 times at bat.

Next Sunday the Bears tackle the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center 9 at the Village diamond here.

All Stars Drop Second Game Of Season At S. A.

The Hondo All-Stars, although they out-hit their opponents, dropped a 12 to 5 game to a San Antonio Grand Prize nine Sunday afternoon at Brookdale Park.

The All-Stars connected for 11 safeties while the Grand Prize team collected 9, but a quintet of hits in the 4th inning resulted in 5 runs, and home-run in the 5th netted 2 more. This is the second loss for the All-Stars this season.

Next Sunday the Stars will journey to Uvalde where they meet the Uvalde Panthers.

Legion Junior League Gets Underway

The Medina Lads, the American Legion Junior team sponsored by Hal Jones Post 128, defeated the hitherto unbeaten Miller Motors team, sponsored by Post 399 of San Antonio, in an exciting game Tuesday by the score of 6 to 5. It was the first game of the season for the local team, and a few rough spots will need to be ironed out before the state race begins.

Harold Keller started on the mound for the Lads, and had innings well in hand until the fourth, when two walks, a hit and some errors by his teammates allowed two runs to score. The Medina County boys were leading 5 to 0 up to that time, thanks to a booming home run in the second inning by Elroy Lindeburg, one in the third by Williams, and a three-run rally in the fourth.

Harlan Wolff pitched the fifth and sixth innings in excellent fashion, but suddenly lost his control in the last half of the seventh. Elroy Lindeburg finally retired the side after three runs had scored.

A Report To The Citizens Of Castroville

At the last meeting of the City Council of the City of Castroville, held June 9th, 1953, Mr. Loyd Rutledge of the A. L. Burden Auditing Company presented to Council his annual audit of the City's Electric and Water System for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1953. The figures compiled by Mr. Rutledge from the recorded cash receipts and disbursements as reflected by the books of the City accorded City Council a well-deserved sense of satisfaction and achievement. The audit showed that of every dollar collected, 49.8 cents was used for maintenance of the System, extensions of water mains and electric lines, salaries, transformers, meters, and other equipment necessary to adequately serve the City. The remaining 52.2 cents has been set aside to retire the bonds outstanding and to meet the interest due on them as well as build up a balance to surplus of $1,542.69. This amount is in addition to the Bond Reserve Fund and Contingencies Fund which will, in July 1953, amount to $12,000.00. City Council is tentatively planning to invest this amount in short-term government bonds, and although the principal amount invested must remain intact, the interest accrued on this investment can be used by the City's Electric and Water System. The total value of the Utility Plant and Equipment has increased $5,019.82 over the past year showing a valuation of $98,923.73 as against the purchase price of $36,573.14, bringing the utilities totaled assets of $127,922.51, an 11 per cent increase over the figures as of April, 1952. Against this figure there is presently outstanding $67,000.00 of revenue bonds. With the System progressing as it has, Council expects to have all the bonded indebtedness paid by 1958 and all profits earned by the utilities thereafter would go into the general fund of the City.

The electric and Water System of Castroville started out in July, 1948 with 163 Water Customers and 213 Electric Customers; it is now serving 323 water customers and 334 electric customers. The considerable increase in electric customers and their increased usage of electric appliances, (electric heating, cooking and air conditioning), has necessitated the purchase and installation of a new transformer bank in the lower end of town. There are two fifty KVA transformers and one seventy-five KVA transformer in operation there now; these will be replaced by three 100 KV. transformers. According to Mr. Lafferty, Utility Manager for the City, these new transformers will be placed very soon. He is planning to do the work at midnight, so no one will be inconvenienced and there will be no interruption of service to business places. Water usage has increased even more than the use of electricity; this of course due to the prevailing hot, dry weather of the last few years. Mr. Lafferty stated that in spite of increased water usage and decreased replenishment of our water supply there is no need for alarm about the City's water supply as he is of the opinion the supply is adequate for the City's needs through this summer, and so far there has been no need of water restrictions.

On the other side of the picture, Mayor Sharp and City Council are justifiably pleased with their allocation of the limited income from City Taxes which must support all City operations not directly affiliated with the Light and Water System. In the fiscal year 1952-1953, the total income to the City General Fund was $2,833.61 - of this amount $2,608.52 was derived from a valorem or property tax, the remaining $225.09 was collected in the form of occupation taxes, building permits and dog licenses. Of the total income $1,731.33 was spent in gravelling and patching streets, preparing streets for topping and topping the intersections where the paving was done. Property holders living on the newly paved streets paid the cost of the topping in front of their own property. $150.00 was spent for a used dump truck to facilitate hauling of gravel, $120.00 was spent for cleaning and maintenance of the dumping grounds, $130.00 for the two city fogging (a sanitation measure), $89.60 for Bridge Lights, $43.40 for Christmas Decorations for the City, and the remaining $569.28 used for labor to clear brush on city streets, clean culverts and drainways, legal advice, hold City elections and to pay the City's annual contribution to the Volunteer Fire Department. Mayor Sharp pointed out that although there is no balance to surplus of the tax money, that is as it should be, for the tax money should be put right back into the projects that all the tax payers benefit from.

THE KOREAN TANGLE

It is high time the Korean truce tangle were got into perspective. The confusion attending the refusal of the Republic of Korea government to approve the truce, its threat to continue the war regardless of the truce, criticism in the United States of the inconclusive character of the proposed peace all have combined to raise the question of whether we have won the war or lost it. All the treasure and blood we have spent upon it, as has been raised also the question of whether the South Korean patriot army has been betrayed at Pammun, as the South Koreans believe, and the unification of the country sacrificed in a sort of Far Eastern Munich.

To get at the answers, history has to be taken into account. When Russia entered the war against Japan on the side of the Japanese surrender in 1945, Russian troops were sent into Korea and occupied it as far south as the 38th parallel. American forces occupied the southern portion. The U. S., Russia, Britain and China agreed to the administration of a trusteeship by Russia and the United States pending the establishment of a democratic government. Russian obstructionism fouled the plan and separate governments were created, a Soviet-type state in the north, a democracy in the south under American tutelage. American occupation forces were removed in June 1949, leaving an advisory military mission left behind. A year later the North Korean army invaded the south.

South Korean forces were swept back. The United Nations landed troops from Japan. The United Nations forced the aggression and lent its authority to the defense of South Korea. The first weeks were perilous, but aggression was turned and the North Koreans were driven back across the 38th parallel. Then, on Oct. 7, 1950, the U. N. General Assembly adopted a resolution calling for the "establishment of a unified, independent and democratic government in the sovereign state of Korea." The U. N. force pressed on, effectively whipped the North Korean contingents and was within sight of its objectives. The Communist Chinese government intervened and its "volunteer" armies across the Yalu River. After years of expensive and bitter fighting, the armies were locked at about the original 38th parallel.

The primary objective of the U. N. has been achieved in throwing back the invasion. There can be little doubt that the unification resolution was meant to be achieved by force, as the secondary objective, but the complexity of the war was altered by the intervention of the Chinese.

The Communist-inspired civil war had become international and threatened to become global. In the face of the changed circumstance it hardly befits the South Korean government to cry betrayal because the Western allies are reluctant to prosecute the fighting to a conclusion acceptable to Korean patriots. Much Allied blood has been spilled in Korea and much more would have to be spilled to take the entire peninsula. South Korea has been saved from annihilation. It stands again at the 38th parallel. The Communist design in Southeast Asia has been lightened. The threat to Japan and Formosa has been lightened. A profound gain would be achieved by plunging ahead for months of war to extend the government of Dr. Rhee to the Yalu River? He would be no safer from invasion by the Chinese than he is now and general war might be exploded in the process.

The Korean issue is one of the many issues which can be solved only by a general settlement with the Soviet Union. Whether that settlement can be negotiated or whether it must be achieved by war is unpredictable, but certainly the Western powers can not permit Dr. Rhee to frustrate their basic policy and dictate alternatives.

Admittedly the Korean truce, if it is obtained, will be a negotiated conclusion and not the victory to which the United States has been accustomed in war. Admittedly it will cost us prestige in the Orient. But our past experience with war fought to unconditional surrender has not included the prevention of future wars. Perhaps a negotiated peace this time will not prove a greater disillusionment. It seems worth the trial and worth the saving in American lives. And if the bulk of American strength in Korea can be withdrawn and held in mobile reserve elsewhere we may be in a far better position to deter fresh Communist adventures than if we were tied down in attritive and bloody fighting on the Asiatic mainland.

SECO PHILOSOPHER WANTS

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is trying to be helpful on the cattle price situation, but we can't see that he succeeds. Dear editor:

I have been reflecting on the cattle market situation out here, and as you know the market has been pretty rough, not only on the cattlemen but also the bankers, as any banker who had a hundred dollar loan on a two hundred dollar cow is now about in the cattle business with a seventy-five dollar cow and the grazing around most banks I've been in is pretty short.

Naturally, somebody ought to come to the rescue of us cattlemen and bankers, especially us cattlemen, and I don't know of anybody who's better equipped or had more experience than the government in Washington.

Now I've been thinking over how the government can do it, and it's not easy. A price support deal on grass might help, and I suppose there are experts in Washington who could work out a system where Bermuda grass could be supported at so much, Johnson grass at so much, needle grass at so much, etc., but the thing will be complicated as there's not much way to determine how much grass a pasture has been producing over the years, except to take my word for it, and some experts might not consider that reliable evidence. I always judge my pasture by the shape of my cows, when the bones begin showing I know the grass is playing out and if a neighbor's fence doesn't give before long the situation will get serious.

But the best system I've figured out is just a price support program for the cattle themselves. You buy a good Jersey steer for 18 cents a pound and keep it a year and sell it for 8 cents and there ain't no way on earth to come out ahead without going through Washington and picking up something on the way, and when it comes to a choice, Washington goes in the hole or me, I always figured Washington was designed to bear the brunt.

Naturally, the program is gonna have to be a little different from the price support program for grain or cotton. The government can buy grain and hold it for a better price, but you try storing a cow and you run into all kinds of complications.

But I believe Washington can do it, and if it can't, that's Washington's worry, not mine.

I hope Congress will turn up the air-conditioning and really give some heavy thought to this problem. Me and my cows can't hold out much longer.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FARMER INVENTS DEVICE TO TRAP WATER IN SOIL

Keeping the moisture where it falls is the desire of most farmers who live in areas conscious of soil conservation. Murray Lievan, who farms 440 acres near White, S. D., and is of an inventive nature has found a way to do this.

He built a machine which dams the corn rows behind the cultivator and thus prevents speedy water runoff on sloping land. After last year's dry fall, Mr. Lievan is hopeful of saving every bit of rain that falls this spring.

Although simple, Mr. Lievan's device is effective. Two blades are fastened on a wheel which is hooked to the back of the cultivator. Mr. Lievan has applied for the patent rights.

The wheel rolls along until one of the blades hits the soil, which then mounds up until its weight becomes so great that the wheel passes over the top of the pile and rounds it off. The wheel is then free to make a second half turn before it repeats the mounding process.

Mr. Lievan has used the machine for the past four years in working the model to greater perfection and he is convinced that it does a good job in preventing soil erosion. The blades not only prevent gully washing between the rows, but they actually form a series of small pools held there to soak in slowly for moisture reserve.

When row crops are cultivated, the central valley between the rows is made up of very loose soil, free from root systems and therefore in prime condition to wash after each rain.

With Mr. Lievan's invention, the farmer can check this tendency to loose soil by creating the series of small dams across the furrow rows after each cultivation of row crops. The field thus will hold moisture until the crop roots have grown out into the cultivated area to form a network holding back moisture and soil for the rest of the season.

BENSON SEEKS STORAGE FOR CROP SURPLUS

One of the most urgent problems that the Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson is now faced with, is to find storage space for this fall's corn and wheat crop. Without this storage space, farmers cannot qualify for government loans on their crops. This would leave them without price support and probably mean the downfall of farm prices.

Mr. Benson and his six top aides made a trip to Des Moines to handle the problem personally in a six state conference with farm leaders.

The problem of storage for surplus wheat is so serious that the government has been forced to pour it into the holds of "mohball" fleet at Norfolk in the Hudson River.

Reduce Planting

Beyond this immediate problem of storage, is the question of how to get farmers to reduce next year's planting so that the government will not be swamped with still another surplus. Congress is offering some aid in this respect in a bill designed to make acreage reductions more plantable to the farmer.

Acreage Control

Under the present price support law, the imposition of acreage controls requires the approval of one-third of farmers voting on the proposal. If they do not agree to such acreage control, the government is then required by law to reduce the support level to 50 per cent of parity.

With present conditions what they are, this would be a drastic course. What the administration would prefer is to win the farmer over to some acceptable form of acreage control.

National Wheat Acreage

This new approach which is now being considered, is contained in a bill offered by a representative from Kansas, Clifford R. Hope, a Republican. It would make the cutback less drastic than that provided under the present law, by raising the minimum national acreage allotment for wheat from 55 million to 66 million acres. It would also restrict the Secretary of Agriculture from making a 25 per cent cutback, permit him to reduce acreage by only 15 per cent, and spread the remainder, if necessary, over succeeding crop years.

Lower Tariffs

Tied in closely with the entire problem was the Benson policy statement of May 31 which, in effect, was a plea for lower tariffs, "to give nations better opportunity to earn the dollars they need in order to buy the export products of American factories and farms."

Secretary Benson feels that a foreign market for American farm products is essential to continued farm prosperity. The decline of this market over the past year, by some 30 per cent, is a cause of grave concern to him and to the farm organization through-out the country.

Dairy and Grain Surpluses

While dairy products are piling up in government warehouses, and have been over the past six months or more, grain surpluses are now an even greater peril.

The government already has 258,551,000 bushels valued at $693 million in storage, and some 365 million bushels on which it has furnished loans totaling some $805,706,000.

As some farmers are able to sell their wheat, some of these loans will be redeemed. But when they cannot get a price for it which is equal to or better than the loan, they simply leave it on the government's hands.

The government already has $1,500,000,000 tied up and an additional $2,000,000,000 advanced on price-support loans. It has 244,645,000 bushels of corn in its possession, at a value of $393,892,000. Some 254 million bushels of the 1952 crop are under loan, for which the government has furnished $399 million.

Corn and Cotton

Best guess now is that by the first of October, the government will have in its possession some 600 million bushels of corn. Cotton also will become a problem with some 4,500,000 bales in hand and a 1953 crop of 13 million bales expected.

Thus, storage for this year's crops, a curb on next year's crops and an improved outlet in foreign markets are imperative before the new administration can even begin to think about developing its own farm legislation.

Health Questions and Answers

Q. What is cardiology?
A. The study of the heart and its functions.
Q. Why is it important to have a medical examination if you suspect you have heart disease?
A. For a couple of reasons: (1) if heart disease is present, to catch it in its early stages or (2) if disease elsewhere in the body is present, to assure proper treatment.
Q. What are 2 important machines that give precise information about the heart?
A. The electrocardiograph (pronounced electro-cardio-graph) measures the heart's pattern of action, which may change with disease. The x-ray machine enables the doctor to see the size and shape of the heart, the appearance of the heart's valves and chambers, and perhaps defects in the heart or nearby vessels.

Q. Why is rheumatic fever of significance in the South, where it is neither as common nor as a rule as severe as in other regions?
A. Early symptoms of the disease, if very mild, may be overlooked completely, with its first evidence being a damaged heart.

SOME RANDOM THOUGHTS

ON PEOPLE AND THINGS

AS HE VIEWS THE

PASSING SCENE

President Eisenhower is sadly in need of sympathetic counsel.

Without knowledge — and we might add comprehension — of the magnitude of the expense of running this government and the wasteful commitments of his predecessor, he promised by word of mouth or by implication to lower taxes and reduce expenses. Now common sense would convince any reasonable person that to accomplish either the two must be correlated and brought about together. Instead of working together for this end, his party is divided, one faction insisting on the promised reduction and the other insisting on more rather than less spending. Between the two the people stand to lose all relief and the administration lose the confidence once reposed in it. The administration is sadly in need of better teamwork.

President Eisenhower set a new precedent in American statecraft — or politics, if you prefer to so denominate it — when he and four of his cabinet members put on a television show in which the President acted somewhat in the role of interlocutor. David Lawrence takes a somewhat dim view of its possible effectiveness. He thinks an excellent chance was missed to explain the inability to balance the budget, cut taxes and extricate America from the Korean "mess," three accomplishments the American people had hopefully expected from the Eisenhower administration despite the known mess the Truman administration would be leaving for him to clean up. In simple words, Mr. Lawrence's gentle censure might be summed up in the President's own words as addressed to the Soviets: "It is action and not words the people want from the administration."

In the furor over Senator Taft's assertion that if there is no truce in Korea "we should forget the United Nations as far as the further conduct of the Korean War is concerned," it would be well to remember that, in so far as material help with men and munitions are concerned, we have been practically forgotten by our alleged allies from the beginning of the fracas. The only censure coming to Senator Taft is for delaying his admonition so long, and the real blame belongs to those in position to act and have not done so without having to be told.

David Lawrence, in whom President Eisenhower never had an abler or more ardent advocate and friend, is now unhappily disillusioned. He regards the President's letter to President Rhee of Korea as "the first admission of military defeat this country has ever made." He thinks the decision of Eisenhower has come three years too late, and "are the terms of a humiliating surrender and defeat." Its effect will be to destroy all hopes on the part of weaker nations that the United States will use force to protect them from aggression — a hope we had inspired by our affiliation with United Nations only to betray it, in the first serious test. "It is a historic and fateful pronouncement — and it will profoundly affect the history of the United States as well as the whole world for a long time to come." What a sad come-down from the carefully nurtured hope of that "magic" power that was going to end the Korean war and bring our boys home!

The United Nation's plan for the unification of Korea seems to be a repetition of the lion and the lamb lying down together — with the lamb inside of the lion. In this case South Korea will be the lamb — and it seems fore-doomed to be first thoroughly masticated.

It is passing strange how wise (?) men disagree. Walter Lippmann rejoices in his column that "at long last the Korean war has been brought to a rational and honorable end." A few lines away, David Lawrence is equally positive that the terms are "a humiliating surrender and defeat." Meantime the fighting and dying goes on and politicians prate of "peace by political negotiation." Take your choice!

Defense Chief Wilson sees the Korean situation as "still pretty disturbing" and opines that people "will be a little disappointed that we can't bring the boys back home." Yes, "disturbing" indeed they must be with our erstwhile South Korean buddies joining the chorus, "Yankees, go home." Are we to have a repetition in Korea in 1953 of what we had in the Philippines in 1898?

We are treated to the anomalous situation of the Congress disagreeing over the matter of cutting $300 million dollars out of the funds to care for our own disabled veterans and cheerfully voting $5,474,000,000 for "foreign relief." What manner of statesmanship have we in Washington?

The defeat, on the 8th instant, of the proposal to retain the parking meters by a majority of 42 votes in a poll of 349, divided as follows, against 194, for 154, spoiled ballots 3, disclosed a three-way division of the town's people on the matter at issue. The "fors" and "against" registered their wishes in emphatic and understandable terms with the above stated result. But what is probably the larger of the three groups — possibly half of the qualified voters — is that of the silent ones who took no part in the election and by their silence manifested their willingness to accept whatever result the majority — for or against — handed them. In this view of the matter, the sentiment of the people must be truly considered as predominantly in favor of dispensing with the meters and returning to the time-honored practice of free-parking in whatever space is available. In the good American spirit of majority rule, we should so accept the decision and cheerfully abide by the decree at the ballot-box. To do so implies a studied observance of the rules of courtesy in all traffic and parking activities to the end that all inconveniences, not to mention hazards and dangers, be kept to the minimum. The meter company has had its try-out and should cheerfully and promptly remove its unsightly, and now useless posts and fill the holes so as to as nearly as possible cover up the scars in our side-walks.

Cheerful acquiescence to the expressed will of the majority is the saving grace of Democracy!

COTTON LOSSES IN 1952

BRYAN—Value of cotton kept out of production by pests in Texas in 1952 was approximately $18,783,000 less than in 1951, according to the National Cotton Council.

Releasing statistics based on the USDA final crop production figures for 1952, George G. Chance, chairman of the Texas state unit of the Cotton Council said cotton crop losses due to insect damage in Texas amounted to $100,932,000. This compares with $119,715,000 in 1951.

Because of boll weevils, pink bollworms, cotton aphids, thrips, and other pests, Texas cotton farmers last year lost an estimated 502,950 bales of cotton and 200,023 tons of cottonseed. Cotton insects last year reduced the full yield in Texas an estimated 7 per cent.

Pink bollworms took a record toll in the Lone Star State, damaging cotton to the extent of $22,500,000. Losses in the 16 major cotton producing states totaled an estimated $289,768,000 as compared with $391,955,000 in 1951. Last year cotton pests claimed approximately 1,444,000 bales of cotton and more than 574,000 tons of seed.

Average reduction in full yield amounted to 6 per cent.

Mrs. Reinhart Bippert, who is a native Californian, says she likes the people of Texas and the State but finds the hot sun a little hard to get used to during the middle of the day. There's only one answer... Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

Fleet operators, farmers, independent truckers—truck users everywhere—buy more Chevrolets than any other make. There can be only one reason for that: Chevrolet trucks offer more of what you want.

As the official registration figures keep rolling in, they keep telling the same positive story about truck popularity and truck value: Again in 1953, for the twelfth straight production year, truck buyers show a clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks.

If you're a truck user, this fact is mighty important to you. Why? Well, as you know, trucks are built and bought for just one reason—to do a job. So isn't it logical that since Chevrolet trucks outsell all other trucks, they must do a better job at lower cost? That's why it will pay you to stop in and see us before you buy your next truck.

Ford's New Wonder Ride

Test Drive a '53 Ford on the roughest, bumpiest road you know—and you'll think it's been "repaved!" Ford proves that a car need not have gas-eating weight and hard-to-park length to give you a smooth, easy ride.

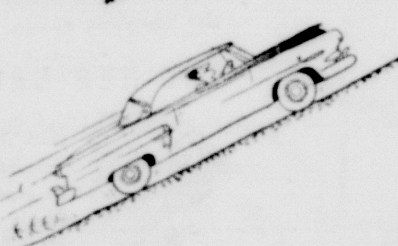

Crestmark Bodies

There's real "build" beneath the style-setting beauty of Ford's Crestmark Bodies. And where you'd expect to find rust-catching cracks—you'll find smooth, welded seams. Weather and dirt don't have an "in" anywhere! Then, too, extensive sound insulation lets you ride in relaxing quiet.

Choice of Power

Ford alone in the low price field offers you the smooth power of a V-8 engine—or so modern a Six. And both deliver hill-climbing "pep!" Ford's Automatic Power Pilot automatically adjusts carburetion, ignition and combustion to make every drop of regular gas work its heart out.

Suspended Pedals

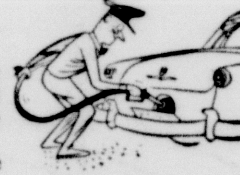

They work easier and make foot space of the entire floor space. Suspended brake and clutch pedals also are a "no entrance" sign to dirt and drafts... and make the floor much easier to keep clean.

Fordomatic Drive

Fordomatic gives you the fast "up-and-away" starts of automatic gears plus the amazing smoothness of a torque converter. And with Fordomatic you can easily "rock out" of snow and mud.

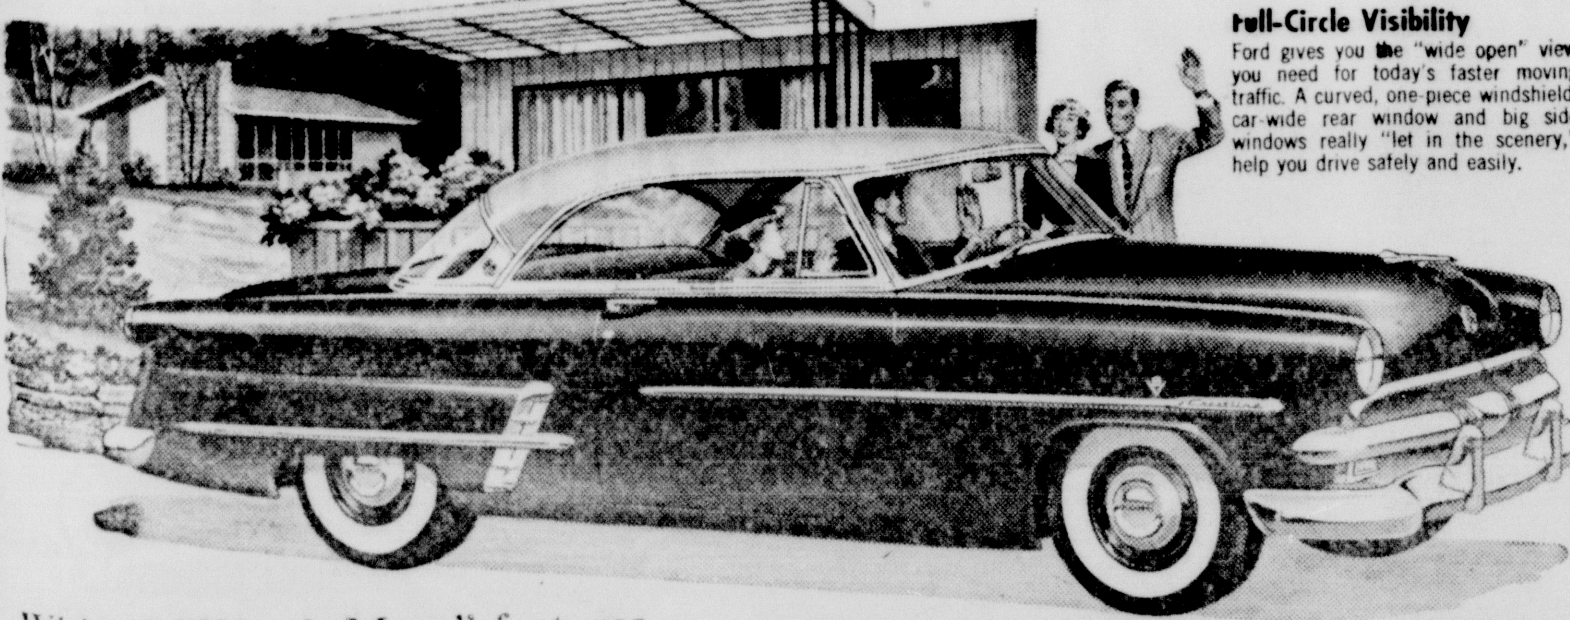

Center-Fill Fueling

Another "Worth More" feature that many more costly cars still don't have! It saves fill-up time and trouble ends "hose strafe" on fenders. And a short fill-pipe gives you extra luggage space.

Full-Circle Visibility

Ford gives you the "wide open" view you need for today's faster moving traffic. A curved, one-piece windshield, car-wide rear window and big side windows really "let in the scenery," help you drive safely and easily.

With 41 "Worth More" features,

Ford's worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it.

Ranch House Ramblings

by
United Salt Corporation's
Range Reporter

Drought-stricken Texas stockmen watched the skies as mid-June rolled around while markets dragged, the Rio Grande ran bone dry, and the Federal Land Bank in Houston counted the second largest volume of loan requests for refinancing outstanding indebtedness in the bank's 37 year history. Laredoans, meanwhile, literally prayed for rain at a mass meeting in the city plaza.

Sporadic heavy runs of cattle, reflecting drought, were reported at Fort Worth and other central markets and prices continued to slump.

V. N. Johnson, vice president and treasurer of the Federal Land Bank, Houston, told Ranch House Ramblings that while the bank's 126 agency offices are turning in a near record volume of loan applications to refinance outstanding indebtedness, there is no jump in land sales. Demand for land of a year ago has diminished, he said.

The News Corral: Cattlemen this week were awaiting news from the Mexico City meeting that may mean a quick reopening of the border for Mexican cattle exportation following outbreak of hoof and mouth disease in Vera Cruz. Texas Hereford Association President, Henry Elder of Fort Worth, tells us that a Texas Register of Merit, like the American Association's score-board of high ranking sires and dams, becomes effective at the State Fair this fall and in shows to follow. Texas Shorthorn Breeders' President, C. M. Lusk of Houston, has returned from Honduras, where he delivered by plane, 10 head of Shorthorns to the Government there. Lusk enthusiastic about experiment station work of Honduras Government and U. S. fruit companies. Secretary Raymond Hollingsworth of The American Quarter Horse Association, Amarillo, tells us now over 38,000 horses are registered says it still takes $1,000 to buy a top, all-round using horse, and that one sold recently for $5,000. Texas wools selling in the 70- and 80-cent range, to a top of 85 cents. Brownsville to have a new pink bollworm research center in September. Secretary Ezra Benson to attend the American Cotton Congress in Lubbock, June 25-27. Texas wheat farmers looking to a 30 million bushel crop, almost two-thirds of Annual Range Management school at the Ranch Experiment Station, Sonora, set for June 29 - July 16. Hill County Aberdeen-Angus Breeders field-day at Buhnet, June 20.

OUR NEW TEXAS LAWS

In a previous article mention was made of six of the eleven proposed Constitutional Amendments which will be voted upon by the people in November, 1954. The five proposals not previously covered are:

(1) Permitting the Legislature to determine the salaries of certain officials. The Constitution now sets the amount.

(2) Raising the limit of welfare expenditures for aged, blind, and needy children.

(3) Prohibiting the State from lending credit of the State to any individual, or corporation, etc., for toll roads.

(4) Permitting employees of the State and political subdivisions to be under the old age and survivors insurance of the Federal Social Security.

A Small Claims Court with reduced expenses and costs was created to handle claims up to $50; or, where a dispute is over wages or salaries, the claim can be as much as $100. The Justice of the Peace serves as the judges of this court.

There were also a number of new laws concerning juries and jury service. Only dentists, doctors, and attorneys in active practice may be exempt from jury service. (Formerly 21 different occupational groups could be excused). Jurors in the county and district courts and grand jurors will not receive between $4 and $5 per day, the exact amount being set by the county commissioners' court.

The commissioners' court may also provide that jurors in felony cases be fed and lodged by the sheriff in addition to receiving pay for their services. Changes were also made in the amount of fees collected by justices of the peace, the county courts and county courts at law.

When stock is found running at large they can be impounded and the owner required to pay a new fee for the keeping of the animals. The fee is graduated from 15 cents to $1 per head per day depending upon the type animal and whether impounded by a public pound or private individual.

It is now a criminal offense for cattle to be on a state or national highway. The provisions for stock law elections were also revised to permit elections concerning the confinement of a particular class of animal.

A number of changes were made in local government. A total of 126 laws were passed dealing with counties and county officers while 52 laws were passed dealing with municipalities; and 54 bills dealt with schools and universities.

Bills on water, municipalities, counties and schools made up a little more than 5 per cent of the total number of bills sent to the Governor for signature.

It is interesting to note that up to this time the Governor has vetoed only 7 bills that were sent to him by the Fifty-third Legislature. In 1951, he vetoed 35 bills, and in 1949, he vetoed 4 bills. As this is written, there are only 37 bills on the Governor's desk awaiting his action. By June 16th he must sign them or file them and let them become law without his signature or veto them.

The major bills which are awaiting his action as this is written are:

Two bills creating 5 additional district courts; three bills making changes in the teacher's retirement system; one revising laws and farm mutual insurance companies; providing a statute of limitations of 4 years for the collection of delinquent personal property taxes; several bills relating to local government and increasing the power of the county commissioners' court; one setting the salaries of court reporters; and several bills increasing the powers of school districts.

In these articles I have attempted to list the bills which, although important, have almost escaped notice. I cannot close without noting that of the 41 bills submitted to our office for opinions, almost half were held void for legal reasons.

I would recommend that the following steps be adopted by the Legislature to avoid legal pitfalls:

(1) Submit all bills to the Legislative Council or other Technical agency by November 15 before the January sessions, so that they could be printed and checked before the session by members and by the Attorney General.

(2) Print all debate by the members for later reference by the Legislature, the courts and the Attorney General. Only in this manner can the true legislative intent be determined.

(3) Take a two-week mid-session recess to return home and consult voters in their districts on major issues.

(A copy of any bill which you might desire may be obtained from the office of the Secretary of State, Austin, Texas).

Heard About the Electric Weather Predictor?

Squint Smith built up quite a reputation last month by predicting the weather. What he said usually came true.

It got so that folks would sit around his little Antique Shop just to get his opinion.

Last Monday, though, he said he didn't know what the weather was going to be like next day. That surprised us and when we asked what happened, Squint said, "Slipped up on my electric bill and was turned off. I'll get to my radio again tomorrow though." Squint had been getting the weather over the radio—just like anyone else!

From where I sit, that's the way it goes with some "experts." They often don't have any more inside information than you can get for yourself. Like those who "know" cider is the only thirst-quencher after a day's work. Far as I'm concerned, I'll take a temperate glass of beer. But—I won't try to "predict" your choice for you.

Joe Marsh

Are You Taking This Gamble?

Are you taking the gamble of having a $7,000.00 fire loss, and having only $2,000.00 in fire insurance? Many are and don't realize it until AFTER THE FIRE. Why don't you do the wise thing TODAY, and bring your fire insurance coverage up to date. Call on me anytime if I may be of assistance.

Legislature Passes New Law For Chiropractors

Dr. Everett B. Vincent returned this week from Beaumont where he attended the 38th annual convention of the Texas State Chiropractic Association.

He said that more than 500 chiropractic practitioners, their wives and guests attended the 3-day meeting, making it one of the largest in the history of the organization.

It was one of the most informative conventions in recent years, he said. During the three days instructions were given at six refresher and post-graduate courses in new methods, practices and healing techniques developed within the profession recently.

He said he also heard enlightening talks by a nationally-recognized authority in the field, Dr. W. G. Poehner of Chicago.

Explanation was also made of the provisions of the recently enacted amendments to the State Workmen's Compensation laws that enable compensation recipients to use the service of chiropractors in back injury cases and other ailments originating in the spine. The new law was passed last month by the Texas Legislature and will go into effect in August.

Two Dallas insurance company executives were on hand at the convention to explain policies on claim filing and insurance procedure in general. More and more insurance companies are recognizing the profession by providing for chiropractic care in their policies and the insurance lectures were given to acquaint practitioners with general insurance practices, he said.

Air Conditioning on wheels* comes of age!

Now you can have a car that's as comfortable on hot days as your air-conditioned home, office or favorite theater.

Now you can ride in draft-free coolness at the temperature level you choose—even when the outside reading is 110° and more.

Now you can take a full complement of passengers through the thick of traffic on a sweltering day—and each one of you will keep looking and feeling fresh as a daisy at dewtime.

Air intakes on each side of car introduce outside air into system.

You do this with the compact Buick AIRCONDITIONER—the completely practical unit available at extra cost in 1953 SUPER and ROADMASTER Sedan and Riviera models.

But note this: what Buick put into its AIRCONDITIONER goes far beyond the usual.

For the advanced design of this Buick unit provides dual roof ducts that distribute up to 300 cubic feet of cooled, freshened, filtered, air per minute to all parts of the car interior evenly and constantly—without icy blasts and drafts on your neck, shoulders, legs.

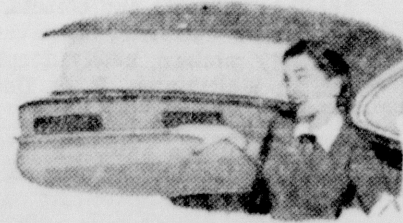

Grilles in Buick's exclusive dual roof ducts insure draft-free distribution of conditioned air—and also provide individual control of air direction as desired.

What's more, these exclusive roof ducts have individually controlled air directors above the side windows. So each window-seat passenger can guide a gentle breeze of conditioned air exactly where he wants it.

Of course, the Buick AIRCONDITIONER is automatic.

You switch it on, choose the temperature setting you want—and that level of coolness is maintained constantly. It thoroughly conditions the air around you—automatically. It carries off heat, stale air, tobacco smoke—automatically. It continuously introduces outside air into the system—automatically.

Return air grilles on package shelf help maintain continuous circulation of conditioned, pollen-free air.

It's fast-acting, too. Even after an hour or more locked up under summer's hottest sun, the car interior can be brought to a delightfully cool comfort in a matter of minutes.

And it's really compact. The cooling unit itself fits neatly on a narrow shelf in the big trunk compartment—leaves plenty of room for luggage and the like.

Why not drop in on us and try a demonstration?

You'll find that the amazing Buick AIRCONDITIONER with its exclusive dual roof ducts is the ultimate comfort in hot-climate driving.

Ten of the Chapters in the Revaldina FFA District will have boys reporting some of their activities through the school year.

Monte Williams, vice-president, of Hondo FFA Chapter, will give a report on the new Vocational Agriculture Building and the Parents and Son Banquet.

D'Hanis FFA To Receive Funds From Foundation

The D'Hanis FFA Chapter has just received word from J. A. Marshall that they are to be awarded a large share of the National FFA Foundation Funds that are allotted to Area VII. Mr. Marshall is Area VII Supervisor which is composed of about 75 schools with FFA Chapters.

Out of $450 which has been allotted to Area VII, the D'Hanis Chapter is to be awarded $65.00 of this amount. $40 will go to Bernard Koch for participation in the area star farmer contest in which he placed third. $25.00 will go to the Chapter for their first place entry in the FFA Quiz Contest.

The chapter has the largest number of candidates for the Lone Star Farmer Degree in the history of the chapter. The chapter advisor, Wayne Cheney, recently received word that four boys have been approved for the degree. The four are Bernard Koch, Milton Schultz, John Ney, and Claude Burks. The Lone Star Farmer Degree is the highest degree that can be awarded to a Texas Future Farmer by the State Association. These four boys accompanied by their advisor plan to attend the State FFA Convention in Fort Worth next month.

Two men were injured in an automobile accident which occurred a little over twenty miles up on the Tarpley Road. Only one car was involved in the accident. Driver was George A. Gase, a 2nd Lt. from Randolph Field, who was slightly injured. Richard Schneider, a student at Hondo AFB, was also injured. A third occupant escaped uninjured.

The men were returning from Bandera. On June 13th around 6:15 a. m. a car driven by Mrs. Lucille B. Wright of Del Rio was involved in an automobile accident with another car driven by Manuel L. Leybas of Sonora. The accident occurred near Highway 173, about 9/10 miles from Hondo.

In the car with Leybas was his wife, another woman by the name of Santiago Leybas, and Joe Martinez, Jr. No one was injured.

Mrs. Wright was accompanied by Walter L. Hersey, Jr., of Brooks AFB, San Antonio. The couple was driving to Del Rio while the Leybas family was going towards San Antonio.

Mrs. Wright was charged with driving while intoxicated. She plead guilty and was fined $150. and costs.

There was approximately $100. damaged done to one car, and $200. to the other.

Postal Box Rent Down

According to new instructions just published by the post office department, an amendment is to be made to the new post office box rent rates for Hondo as published in last week's Anvil Herald.

In any instance where there has been a change in gross postal receipts for the preceding calendar year that results in the post office being placed in a higher bracket, postmasters are authorized to use the present postal receipt bracket for application of the new box rent rates schedule for the following year in order to avoid a double rate increase to box patrons.

This being the case at the Hondo post office, the following box rent rates will become effective July 1, 1953, instead of those published last week.

Small box, 90c.
No. 2 size, $1.10, and Drawer $1.50.

Farm Bureau To Sponsor Contest

Medina County Farm Bureau is sponsoring a county-wide Queen contest to select a Queen who will represent this County in the Statewide Queen Contest sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau Association, according to D. B. President.

The purpose of the contest is to give recognition to the beauty, grace and vivaciousness of farm and ranch girls of Medina County and to give rural youth an opportunity to become acquainted with the principles and philosophies of the Farm Bureau organization.

The contest is an "honest-to-goodness" beauty affair. The girls will be judged on three main points: (1) appearance, (2) poise and personality, qualities that make up a winsome Texas Homemaker.

The contest is open to any girl or sister of a Farm Bureau member who is single, between the ages of 16 and 22 years on September 1, 1953 and not older than September 1, 1953. The contest is open to all members of state directors, county officers and County directors are not eligible to enter the contest.

The procedure of the contest will be as follows: Each community within the county will have the opportunity to select a community queen. In a county-wide contest the county queen will be selected from among the community queens. She will compete in the District Elimination Contest which will be held in District No. 10 sometime in September. The State Queen will be chosen from among the district winners in November at the 20th Annual Convention of the Texas Farm Bureau at Mineral Wells. Appropriate awards will be given to the county, district and state winners.

All eligible daughters or sisters of Farm Bureau members are invited to participate in the contest. We are most anxious to have a good cross-county representation. For further details please contact the Farm Bureau office in Hondo or one of the following: Hoon Contest Committee: Mrs. Joe Hoog, Castroville; Mrs. L. C. Martin, Devine; Mrs. Henry Nehr D'Hanis; Mrs. Henry Lindeburg, Hondo; Mrs. Robert Fasel, Hondo; and Mrs. Floyd Santeleben, LaCoste.

During the high winds that hit Castroville about 6:30 Friday evening a portion of town was without electricity as one phase was out. The trouble could not be located for several hours and the current was not on until after midnight.

CHURCH NOTICE

St. Paul's Lutheran Church will have Sunday School at 9:30 on Sunday morning, and church services at 8:00 P. M.

Reverend William Durkop will conduct the services.

8.97 barrels of 21 gravity oil is being pumped at the No. 1 James Gray, in the Taylor-Ina Field. It is pumping on a potential test on Stratafraced open hole at 805-54 feet in the Navarro, by Henderson Brothers and Kent B. Diehl.

The well is in the H. Wilson Survey 56.

Two wells east of Zig Zag and a well south of the Adams gas field are being drilled, opening another wildcat field in the Medina County area.

On the James L. Ewin Survey 508, located four miles south of the Adams gas field and eight miles southwest of Devine, the R. S. Hays No. 1 Craig Adams in south central Medina County, was drilling at 989 feet on Monday, on a 1,700 foot permit.

On the Smith Noel Survey 42, located in the southeast corner of the county, the Jay Simmons No. 1 S. H. Ruskin was to be spudded the first of this week. The drill permits call for 2,500 feet, with Texas Drillers holding the contract.

In the G. Petty Survey 3, located three miles southwest of the Simmons test, the Patrick and Douglas Downing No. 1 W. T. Smith, was preparing to core. This wildcat is located near the old Bear Creek Field.

Wherry and Green have started another wildcat located 330 feet from the north line of a 267.2 acres lease, and of the F. Vanderstucken Survey 366, and is that same distance from the most easterly west line of the lease.

The wildcat scales 1,500 feet from the west line of the survey. Wherry and Green's No. 1 Dora Mae Wilson, in the Taylor Ina Field, was being tested on pump on perforations at 820-906 feet. It has pipe set to 1,000 feet.

Castroville Opens New Division

CASTROVILLE — Work has started on clearing the streets preparatory to laying water main and electric lines to the new residential block developing in the south-west end of town. 3 houses have been started, and 3 more of the original group are planning to build.

The water level is lowering according to Mr. Lafferty, but he believes Castroville water consumers will not be asked to ration their use of water for lawns etc., this summer.

Castroville Council Gives Financial Report

The Castroville City Council met in regular session last Tuesday with Mr. Rutledge of the firm of A. L. Burden, Public Accountant of San Antonio, present to give the financial report of the city, the fiscal year ending on April 30.

Mr. Rutledge said that the city could be proud of its financial standing. Out of $1.00 revenue from electricity, only 55c is spent for expenses; out of $1.00 revenue from water, only 36c is spent for expenses. However, the cost of water installation is greater; combining the two sources of revenue, the ratio is almost 50c revenue and 50c expenses.

There are 334 electric customers, 333 water customers. Building permits netted $20.00.

The council voted to purchase a new type of street light for use on the bridge lighting system on the recommendation of Manager Pat Lafferty, who stated they would be easier to install and last longer.

The City Council also voted to increase the insurance on the City Office building and supplies.

A motion was made and carried that the graduated speed zone recommended by the State Highway Department be used in Castroville. The speed zone will begin at the edge of the city limits at 50 miles and decrease to 40 miles an hour throughout town.

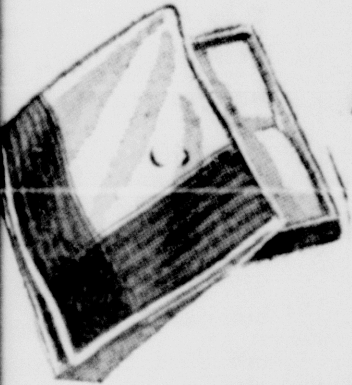

A similar system has been adopted by almost all towns and has been found more effective in cutting down speed.

If you were listening to your radio, station KONO, at 12:30 last Saturday, you would have heard a delegation from Hondo discussing general farm conditions and 4-H Club work in Medina County. The delegation was made up of C. B. GASTON, GEORGE KOCH, GEORGE ILSE, V. H. NEUMANN, BUTCH WOOLLS, JOHN WALTER MEYER, WILLIAM REUS, DONNIE NEUMAN and HARTLEY HOWARD.

The Camp Fire Girls, RUTH ANN CROW, VIRGINIA CLEMENTS, BARBARA FAYE CLEMENTS, DIANE POPE, MARY POPE, CONNIE SCHWEERS, BARBARA BRUCKS, CAROL ANN RATH, and PAMELA STRICKLAND will be gone for 10 days. The A. G. HOLLAWAYS were among those who attended the beautiful wedding of Caroline Mogford and Jack Hardeman in Uvalde last Friday evening.

The SPARKS have just returned from Montana where they got in a SNOW STORM last week.

CHARLES NEY is home from the University for the summer. CHARLES will be a junior in the school of architecture this coming year, and a senior student.

PAULINE and EARNEST BRITSCH "adopted" themselves a little girl this past week. KATHERINE MARIE VINCENT stayed with them while her parents were on a trip, and liked staying with the BRITSCHES so much she could hardly make up her mind to go back home when her folks got back.

Best un-snapped picture of the week, BOB KOLLMAN at 7:00 A. M. showing his yard man how to operate the new electric lawn mower which BOB had just purchased. You never saw such a waving of arms, and such take-offs down the grass. It all ended up without injuries for anyone, and the yard man thought it was "muy fino, muy fino."

MARTIN NOONAN and FRANK VANCE have taken off with cots, canned beans, etc., for the wilds of Big Bend and the Davis Mountains. Bears beware.

When BOBBY HARDY had a "luncheon" for just a few of his buddies, he informed his mother there were to be no women invited. BOBBY lost, and it seems the party must have been a great success, as we saw a few of the guests and they were really all tucked out after the soiree.

The list of unusually pretty little girls in Medina County could go on and on, but we know of one that is mighty near the top of the list, and is a perfect example of the Texas type beauty we're always reading about. Her name is MARY THERESA FINGER, daughter of MELVIN and KAY FINGER of D'Hanis.

We know of a case in Hondo where the TELEPHONE COMPANY OPERATORS should be given dozens and dozens of roses, and blessings. It was through their efforts that a little boy got his dog on his birthday. For 3 days, the different operators called every 15 minutes to find the owner of the puppies, and when time got short, they tracked him down in San Antonio. The owner was contacted at 1:30 Saturday afternoon, the little boy's party began at three o'clock, and the dog arrived at five minutes after three. Heading the "little boy is going to have his dog" committee was MRS. CECILIA KOCH.

JAY MACMANUS is scooting around town on the ice truck these days, quite a change from his usual duties on the old AKA-93, otherwise known as the USS Yancey. He is back in Hondo from Sasebo, Japan, for a few weeks of leave but still has another year and a half to serve in the navy.

Broom And Broom Corn News

In the Tuesday, June 7th issue of Broom and Broom Corn News there appeared the following report, "In driving the Hondo and Devine districts last Sunday, we found very few fields that will make an average yield. Some fields we saw will not make a ton on 50 acres and doubt, in such cases, that they will be harvested. The only favorable spot we found is in the Charlotte community and that is nothing to brag about."

"The young broom corn which is about 18 inches in height will make it if rain is not delayed more than two weeks but without moisture in that period, you can kiss that broom corn goodbye." The report was made by J. L. Beck of Beeville, Texas.

Warehouse Law Passed For Crop Storage

AUSTIN — The Texas grain farmer now for the first time has adequate protection for his crops held in storage, according to Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White.

Because of the Public Grain Warehouse Bill, passed during the recent 53rd legislative session, a depositor of grain in a public warehouse has his commodities insured against fire, theft, misappropriation, damage due to careless handling, or acts of God, White stated.

Also, for the first time, the farmer may use his stored grain receipts from state bonded warehouses as negotiable security.

In commenting on the bill, White said, "This was a long-needed piece of legislation. I am particularly grateful to Mr. J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation; Mr. C. H. DeVaney, vice-president; Mr. Loys Barbour, Farm Bureau director, and many others for their assistance in helping make this law a reality."

The state farm organization, representing more than 180 organized counties, maintained a legislative office in the state capital this year for the first time. This office was staffed by DeVaney and Barbour, both farmers.

The new warehouse law, introduced by Rep. W. R. Chamber of May and Senator Andy Rogers of Childress, requires that all public warehousemen, not previously licensed by the federal government, secure a license from the Texas Department of Agriculture, insurance to fully cover all grain in storage also is required.

The warehouseman further protects his customers by obtaining a bond not less than $5,000 nor more than $50,000; the amount being at the discretion of the Commissioner of Agriculture.

The Story Of Oil In Texas

Here in the United States we use ten times as much mechanical energy as the rest of the world, and oil and gas, called the petroleum twins, provide a large proportion of that energy. At this time, petroleum currently supplies about 60 per cent of our mineral energy. Coal, once America's No. 1 source of energy, dropped far behind as a competitive.

Spindletop 1901

In 1901 a well being drilled for oil in a cow pasture near Beaumont came in as the world's first "gusher," marking the birth of the Texas oil industry and the dawn of the machine age. Spindletop brought forth oil in quantities never believed possible, and with it a year pipe lines, ports, and tanker ships provided the answer, by delivering oil from Texas ports to all the world.

In the 1920's, East Central Texas, West Texas, and the Panhandle were the scene of important oil discoveries, and in 1921 came the discovery of the great East Texas field followed by many others.

Comanche

Here in Texas there has been a great deal of romance attached to the naming of the fields or particular wells. The Comanche series was named from the town of Comanche in Comanche County, which originally came from the famous Indian tribe that once roamed through Texas and adjoining areas. It is a group of Cretaceous formations providing some of the nation's most substantial oil fields.

Edwards Plateau

Highly valuable in Louisiana, but more so on our Texas Gulf Coast, is the famous Frio formation. The name "Frio," which means "cold" in Spanish, comes from the Frio River. Towards the center of the state, Edwards limestone is the formation from which several fields produce. The limestone was named for the Edwards Plateau, which had originally been named for Haden H. Edwards, an early Texan who fought in the state's battle for independence and served as representative to the First Congress of the Republic. The Luling, Darst Creek, Salt Flat, Imogene, and Charlotte fields produce from the Edwards.

Woodbine Sand

Woodbine sand is the famous formation in East Texas, responsible for production in the vast East Texas and Hawkins fields. Outcrops at the small town of Woodbine, in Cooke County, are the basis for its name. Woodbine sand is equivalent in part to the Tuscaloosa of Alabama.

Canyon, Cisco, Strawn

There are three groups of sands and limestone, Canyon, Cisco and Strawn, which are the key to much of the production in North Texas, one of the oldest oil-producing areas of the state. All 3 are named after Texas towns.

Thrifty, Gunsight

Under these three are some of

Rains Lift Bass Hatch In W. Texas

AUSTIN—Now that the rains have come again to at least some parts of West Texas, many drought-blighted activities are being resumed.

Among these, according to the Chief Aquatic Biologist of the Game and Fish Commission, is the State Fish Hatchery at San Angelo. In fact, he considers what the hatchery has recently rallied to do to be among the better wildlife success stories following the original downpour in early March.

The Chief Aquatic Biologist said the hatchery which had faced abandonment, quickly capitalized on the timely water supply so effectively that approximately 5 million black bass have been hatched and already distributed. And it's a near record production for that hatchery.

He credited Supt. Luke Proctor of the San Angelo Hatchery with handling the amazing comeback.

In the face of talk about moving his parent fish to another hatchery, Proctor had been struggling to pump in enough water to preserve his precious brood bass when it began raining the second week in March. Actually, when Proctor's rearing ponds caught water, a few bass had already spawned. These comparatively few eggs were lost and Proctor now says that was a good idea since the early crop would have preyed on the later hatch.

Proctor and his crew, using pickup trucks with aerated tanks, have distributed roughly 5 million black bass fry to the big lakes and new lakes in the 37 central west Texas counties in his district, and to some counties in adjoining districts. He soon will deliver a shipment of number one fingerling bass to the El Paso and Davis Mountain area and will retain about half a million bass to raise to the five-inch fingerling size for fall delivery.

the most colorfully named strata in the state. Thrifty, a part of the Cisco series, was named for a village in Brown County, Texas. When the town was founded in 1868, it was named for the industrious spirit and frugality of the settlers. Gunsight, another Cisco stratum, received its name from a town in Stephens County, which had been named for the nearby Gunsight Mountains. The mountains looked to early Texans "as straight as a gun barrel, with a projecting peak representing the gunsight," according to history books. Still another Cisco member, Nimrod, was called after a town in Eastland County where a Biblical character was inspiration for the name.

Wizard Wells

In the Canyon series there are the Ranger and Wizard Wells sands, Ranger named for a Texas Ranger camp, and Wizard Wells because flowing mineral wells close by were supposed by the occupying Kiowa Indians to have medicinal value.

San Andres Lime

In Texas and Southeastern New Mexico, the Yates Field was named after the man on whose land the field was found. The Watson and Slaughter fields are from San Andres Limestone, named for the San Andres Mountains. The name is Spanish for "Saint Andrew."

Ellenburger Limestone

In the Hendricks Field the formation is called Seven Rivers which originated in New Mexico. Ellenburger limestone, named for the Ellenburger Hills in Burnet County, Texas, is the producing zone in the Big Lake and Yarbrough and Allen fields.

Devonian Formation

In West Texas there is a growing field which is referred to as the Devonian formation, named for the province of Devonshire in England, where formations of that time were studied more than a century ago.

A name becomes "legal" for a formation when a geologist, or someone else concerned with the field, describes it and uses his term in published matter or in some other form of work. If the name "sticks" it will soon become common usage in geological circles, and will occur in bulletins such as those put out by the United States Geological Survey.

There are often conflicting interpretations, however, as to the naming of a field or well, and these arguments have been known to last for years.

Port of Houston

It is interesting to know that the Port of Houston is the world's greatest oil port, and the nation's second port, New York being the first. Today various pipe lines deliver some 735,000 barrels of petroleum a day to the Port's refineries and docks. The Port's refineries can process about 570 thousand barrels of crude oil a day. With oil shipments increasing yearly, the Port of Houston earned the rank of second port in the nation in 1948, and about three-fourths of it is petroleum products.

Other ports in Texas are Beaumont, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Freeport, Galveston, Ingleside, Orange, Port Aransas, Port Arthur, Port Isabel, Port Lavaca, Sabine Pass and Texas City. These Texas ports perform a vital service to the state and surrounding states to the north and west. This area produces a prodigious amount of raw materials, vastly more than its population can use, and the Texas ports are its doorways to the markets of the world.

40 Per Cent of National Supply

Texas produces about 40 per cent of our national supply of crude oil, and these harbors today are the United States' most important oil ports. Some 400 thousand barrels of crude oil and petroleum products are shipped out by tanker and barge each day, accounting for more than half of the Texas ports' traffic. Today the Ship Channel in Houston, which was once a bayou is a magnificent "avenue of industry" includes six refineries, 20 chemical plants, a steel mill, a pipe mill, four synthetic rubber plants, a ship repair yard, and many other major plants.

$1,000,000,000 Investment

Capital investment in these plants exceeds a billion dollars, and building is still going on with plans for expansion of industry on the channel to run into millions of dollars, and Port Houston's combination of "water and oil" continues to bring in new industries.

Channel To Be Widened

There is a $21 million plan to again widen the channel and to deepen it to 40 feet. Larger oil tankers, defense super-tankers, are being constructed to transport more oil, and the projected improvements will open the doors of the Port of Houston to these great new ships. Port authorities have estimated that the flow of petroleum through the port will jump 20 million tons in the next ten years, and that development of the petrochemicals may make Houston the world's leading chemical port.

And Medina County may find itself a part of this petrochemical industry, with the coming production there will come laying-in of bigger pipe lines channel the oil to all parts of the world.

It Pays To CREEP FEED YOUR CALVES

Here is an example:

Common grass-fed calves are now selling from 10 cents to 16 cents a pound. Creep fed calves are selling from 17 cents to 23 cents a pound. Suppose we had a grass weaning calf weighing 350 lbs. at 10 cents a pound. He would be worth $35.00

Now let's feed that calf to a weight of 500 lbs., which will require approximately 600 lbs. of creep feed at $3.25 a hundred or a feed cost of $19.50

Cost of fed calf then would be (not including labor) $54.50

Let's sell this 500 lb. calf at 22 cents a pound. He will be worth $110.00

Deduct value of calf and the feed $54.50

Leaves profit over feeding operations (less labor) $55.50

"Each dollar spent on creep feed under present market conditions will return the feeder approximately $2.00!"

H. D. CLUB NEWS

Yearbook Committee: Mrs. G. C. McAnelly and Mrs. Francis Echtle met with the home demonstration agent to plan the 1954 programs for the yearbooks on Monday, June 15. Mrs. Ray Keith is on vacation and was unable to attend. A second meeting will be held on July 13 at 1:00 P. M.

Recipe of the Week: Orange Eggnog. Beat one egg well and add 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 cup orange juice and 1 tablespoon light corn syrup. Mix thoroughly and chill. Serve ice cold. A mount 1 glass. Have for supper: Assorted Cold meats, scalloped potatoes and stuffed onions, sliced tomatoes, bread, orange eggnog, lemon sugar and cookies.

Kill Those Ants: Many housewives are aggravated by pesky ants in their pantries, cabinets and on their food supplies. Household ants can be controlled fairly easily by spraying the interior of the house where they are commonly seen with a 2 per cent chlordane household spray. Spray around windows and doors where ants may enter and around water pipe fittings and sinks where these insects may come for water. For a permanent control treat the outside premises of the house and foundation to destroy the colonies. A thorough application of 5 per cent chlordane—either dust or spray applied on the ground for a distance of 3 to 4 feet from the house will kill ants before they can invade the house. Chlordane is available at feed and drug stores everywhere.

Keep Those Chickens Producing and Growing: Even chickens like to be comfortable and have things convenient. They not only like water clean and cool, but they like it handy. Check the location of your fountains and add more if they are needed.

Sometimes it is necessary to give medicine to a flock in the drinking water, but he warns there is danger in doing it. Some drugs just don't taste good to chickens and they may quit drinking water. Unless they drink lots of water, there'll be fewer eggs and less meat produced.

Eggs For Breakfast: Breakfast is a good meal for that one-egg a-day suggested by the Texas Food Standard. It ranks high in protein, Vitamin A, Vitamin B, and Vitamin D, as well as iron and phosphorus. Eggs are included in reducing diets because they are low in calories. Eggs for breakfast can prevent a mid-morning let-down. Include them in your breakfast menu.

Baked Potato: For that baked potato—an easy way to prepare them, heat your oven to 350 degrees F. Place the potatoes on a grate or in a baking pan. Other vegetables suitable for baking are onions, beets, squash, carrots, corn in husks, stuffed or plain tomatoes, stuffed peppers and egg plant.

Science Aids Fish Habits

ROCKPORT — Nature's effort to restore fish life along the Texas coast may get a lift from the Men of Science.

Recent interest along the Gulf areas has been focused on the comeback of trout and other species which were hard hit by a severe freeze two years ago last January.

Now the Chief Marine Biologist of the Texas Game and Fish Commission and his staff are beginning work designed to improve the habitat of favorite sports fish.

In a statement, he said: "We are starting a program of planting marine types of vegetation in order to attempt the establishment of nursery grounds for redfish and trout."

"Several causes might be attributed to the diminishing areas of nursery grounds for these species. It is felt that this one factor may be the cause, but the combined factors such as the drought conditions and increased industrial activities in the bays could be responsible."

"We plan to plant Ruppia, commonly known as widgeon grass, and Acetabularia, known as the mermaid's wine glass in areas where nursery grounds were known to have occurred in the past."

"If it is possible for us to establish these nursery grounds, undoubtedly there will be tremendous increases in the population of both young trout and young redfish. The increase in these fish, however, would not be felt before the spring of 1954."

HURRICANES DEFEAT DILLEY 39-6

The Hondo Hurricanes lived up to their name last Friday night when they swept over Dilley 39 to 6 at the latter's diamond. The Hurricanes went on a batting rampage in the second inning, pushing 20 runs across the plate. This was the second league win for Hondo.

Nell Nixon contributed the only home run in the first inning. The Hurricanes will meet the Devine Arabians on Friday night the 19th.

Bears Defeated 5-4 By Seguin

The Hondo Bears dropped their second game with the Seguin Aztecs Saturday night by the score of 5 to 4, the same score they lost by two weeks ago. Pilo Rameriz hurled the full route for the Bears, allowing 7 hits, while his team mates gathered 6 off the opposing pitchers.

Saurez of the Aztecs was the leading hitter with 3 safeties, while Perez of the Bears connected for two singles out of 4 times at bat.

Next Sunday the Bears tackle the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center 9 at the Village diamond here.

Legion Junior League Gets Underway

The Medina Lads, the American Legion Junior team sponsored by Hal Jones Post 128, defeated the hitherto unbeaten Miller Motors team, sponsored by Post 399 of San Antonio, in an exciting game Tuesday by the score of 6 to 5. It was the first game of the season for the local team, and a few rough spots will need to be ironed out before the state race begins.

Harold Keller started on the mound for the Lads, and had innings well in hand until the fourth, when two walks, a hit and some errors by his teammates allowed two runs to score. The Medina County boys were leading 5 to 0 up to that time, thanks to a booming home run in the second inning by Elroy Lindeburg, one in the third by Williams, and a three-run rally in the fourth.

Harlan Wolff pitched the fifth and sixth innings in excellent fashion, but suddenly lost his control in the last half of the seventh. Elroy Lindeburg finally retired the side after three runs had scored.

A Report To The Citizens Of Castroville

At the last meeting of the City Council of the City of Castroville, held June 9th, 1953, Mr. Loyd Rutledge of the A. L. Burden Auditing Company presented to Council his annual audit of the City's Electric and Water System for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1953. The figures compiled by Mr. Rutledge from the recorded cash receipts and disbursements as reflected by the books of the City accorded City Council a well-deserved sense of satisfaction and achievement. The audit showed that of every dollar collected, 49.8 cents was used for maintenance of the System, extensions of water mains and electric lines, salaries, transformers, meters, and other equipment necessary to adequately serve the City. The remaining 52.2 cents has been set aside to retire the bonds outstanding and to meet the interest due on them as well as build up a balance to surplus of $1,542.69.

This amount is in addition to the Bond Reserve Fund and Contingencies Fund which will, in July 1953, amount to $12,000.00. City Council is tentatively planning to invest this amount in short-term government bonds, and although the principal amount invested must remain intact, the interest accrued on this investment can be used by the City's Electric and Water System. The total value of the Utility Plant and Equipment has increased $5,010.82 over the past year showing a valuation of $98,923.73 as against the purchase price of $36,573.14, bringing the utilities totaled assets of $127,922.51, an 11 per cent increase over the figures as of April, 1952. Against this figure there is presently outstanding $67,000.00 of revenue bonds. With the System progressing as it has, Council expects to have all the bonded indebtedness paid by 1968 and all profits earned by the utilities thereafter would go into the general fund of the City.

The electric and Water System of Castroville started out in July, 1948 with 163 Water Customers and 213 Electric Customers; it is now serving 333 water customers and 334 electric customers. The considerable increase in electric customers and their increased usage of electric appliances, (electric heating, cooking and air conditioning), has necessitated the purchase and installation of a new transformer bank in the lower end of town. There are two fifty KVA transformers and one seventy-five KVA transformer in operation there now; these will be replaced by three 100 KV. transformers. According to Mr. Lafferty, Utility Manager for the City, these new transformers will be placed very soon. He is planning to do the work at midnight, so no one will be inconvenienced and there will be no interruption of service to business places. Water usage has increased even more than the use of electricity; this of course due to the prevailing hot, dry weather of the last few years. Mr. Lafferty stated that in spite of increased water usage and decreased replenishment of our water supply there is no need for alarm about the City's water supply as he is of the opinion the supply is adequate for the City's needs through this summer, and so far there has been no need of water restrictions.

On the other side of the picture, Mayor Sharp and City Council are justifiably pleased with their allocation of the limited income from City Taxes which must support all City operations not directly affiliated with the Light and Water System. In the fiscal year 1952-1953, the total income to the City General Fund was $2,833.61 - of this amount $2,608.52 was derived from a d valorem or property tax, the remaining $225.09 was collected in the form of occupation taxes, building permits and dog licenses. Of the total income $1,731.33 was spent in travelling and patching streets, preparing streets for topping and topping the intersections where the paving was done. Property holders living on the newly paved streets paid the cost of the topping in front of their own property. $150.00 was spent for a used dump truck to facilitate hauling of gravel, $120.00 was spent for cleaning and maintenance of the dumping grounds, $130.00 for the two city fogging (a sanitation measure), $89.60 for Bridge Lights, $43.40 for Christmas Decorations for the City, and the remaining $569.28 used for labor to clear brush on city streets, clean culverts and drainways, legal advice, hold City elections and to pay the City's annual contribution to the Volunteer Fire Department. Mayor Sharp pointed out that although there is no balance to surplus of the tax money, that is as it should be, for the tax money should be put right back into the projects that all the tax payers benefit from.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

AUSTIN—Governor Allan Shivers this week finished a long session of signing bills passed by the Legislature.

The governor's time limit expired Tuesday (June 16) for either signing or vetoing bills.

One to which he affixed his signature authorizes the construction of toll roads in Texas.

This was a controversial measure in the legislature, which at times seemed to prefer limiting the set-up to a Dallas-Fort Worth turnpike.

The administration, which favored making the authority statewide, finally prevailed.

Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike
Highway people hope that the toll road venture, new for Texas, will help to relieve traffic congestion.

It is widely recognized that roads are overcrowded. The governor advocated a one-cent increase in the gasoline tax to help out with needed highway building but the legislature settled down to a no-new-tax policy and stuck with it.

Under the toll road bill, the Dallas-Fort Worth turnpike will be the first to be constructed.

Water Bill
On a single day, the governor signed 87 bills, including eight designed to carry out his water conservation and drought relief program.

One of the water bills is effective immediately. It creates an anti-pollution advisory council which has the responsibility of studying pollution and working with other agencies to prevent it.

Constituting the council are the state health officer, executive secretary of the game and fish commission, chairman of the board of water engineers, chairman of the railroad commission, and the attorney general.

The other water bills, effective August 26, do these things:

Cancel all water permits which have been unused for 10 years, so that they may be re-assigned;

Specify in detail how public waters of the state may be appropriated;

Provide for the granting of seasonal and temporary water appropriation permits for not to exceed a year;

Give the board of water engineers more authority and empower the board to enforce its orders by legal action;

Reorganize the board of water engineers so as to give the members six-year appointive terms and provide for the services of a professional engineer who will be secretary of the board.

Require an application in writing for appropriation, storage, or diversion of public waters.

Create a state water resources committee of nine members to study Texas water problems and make recommendations.

Narcotics
Other bills signed by the Governor included the following:

Providing a 40-hour week for state employees.

Authorizing persons in the armed services, their wives, husbands or children to enroll in state colleges and pay the same fees required of Texas residents.

Re-establishing the narcotics enforcement division of the Department of Public Safety, and providing penalties up to life imprisonment for sale of narcotics to minors.

Giving to existing soil conservation districts the $1 million remaining in the appropriation made two years ago to the Texas Soil Conservation Service.

Many of the bills were local and routine.

Auto Inspection

Going into effect August 26 will be a new auto inspection law, which is not as stringent as the one originally passed in Texas.

The annual inspection is not now required as a condition for purchase of car licenses.

Inspection is limited to lights, steering gear, brakes, horns, and windshield wipers.

Now created, as authorized by the legislature, is the Texas Commission for Alcoholism, which will continue the work begun years ago by an unofficial committee.

The commission will plan with local agencies for clinical treatment of alcoholics.

The commission has no appropriation—it will depend on private contributions for its support.

A railroad commission shutdown order affecting 2,400 oil wells in the Spraberry area of West Texas was ruled out by the state supreme court.

The commission's order was designed to stop flaring of gas at some of the Spraberry wells.

It was the court's opinion that while the railroad commission was to be commended for its efforts to prevent waste of gas, the commission did not have the authority to shut down all wells in the area, including those where gas was not being flared.

Disaster Areas
Designation of flooded parts of Newton and Orange Counties as disaster areas was requested of President Eisenhower by Governor Shivers.

If they are so designated, the areas will be eligible for federal aid.

In a telegram to the president, Governor Shivers said, "one of the worst floods in the history of the Sabine River has created unprecedented health hazards and caused much other damage in Newton and Orange Counties.

"The town of Deweyville, Texas has been inundated."

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd set out by plane and boat to inspect the tidelands to which Texas will regain title by act of Congress.

The attorney general is a member of the state school land board, which will administer the tidelands. The other members are the land commissioner and the governor.

Short Snorts: Attorney General Shepperd recommends that revenue from the continental shelf be utilized to raise teachers' pay. Austin was host to volunteer firemen of the state, and during their stay the city broke out in a rash of fires. State Health Officer G. W. Cox predicts that the incidence of polio will be lighter this year. The Texas Game and Fish Commission is working out plans to have open season on doe deer in Gillespie, Mason, and Kerr Counties. The purpose is to stabilize the deer population, which is now too large for the amount of available food.

How To Age Successfully

There are Seven Sensible Steps to growing older. That is, if you want to age successfully.

Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life education specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says looking forward to later years can be done pleasantly by planning to include these seven steps in growing older. For healthier and happier years ahead, eat properly; see your doctor regularly; get enough sleep; balance your exercise and rest; wear comfortable, attractive and becoming clothing; keep busy; and cultivate a sense of humor.

Growing older is a lifelong process and means changes of many kinds, physical, mental, and social. These changes are natural and should be recognized and accepted. Plans for growing older can fill the need for affection, activity and achievement, companionship, being needed and useful, and for creative interests.

A well-balanced person looks back upon his life and profits from the lessons he has learned. He enjoys pleasant memories. But he also looks into the future to make plans for what he intends to do tomorrow. What are we going to be like in ten or fifteen years? What kind of a 65 or 70 year old will we be? If we are self-centered and withdrawn now we will be even more isolated when we are old. If we are interested in other people and get pleasure in doing for others we will get increasing pleasure and satisfaction in relations with people as we get older.

Mrs. Johnson says since older people account for an ever increasing proportion of the total population, many county home demonstration agents have encouraged groups to include special needs of older family members as one of their objectives. In 1952 the agents counseled more than 3 thousand older persons. Conferences of representatives of organizations in the family have been an effective means of creating more general awareness of problems which may be through community analysis and cooperation.

THE KOREAN TANGLE

It is high time the Korean truce tangle were got into perspective. The confusion attending the refusal of the Republic of Korea government to approve the truce, its threat to continue the war regardless of the truce, criticism in the United States of the inconclusive character of the proposed peace all have combined to the question of whether we have won the war or lost it. All the treasure and blood we have spent upon it, has been raised also the question of whether the Korean patriot army has been betrayed at Pammun, the South Koreans believe, and the unification of the country sacrificed in a sort of Far East Munich.

To get at the answers, history has to be taken into account. When Russia entered the war against Japan on the side of the Japanese surrender in 1945, Russian troops went into Korea and occupied it as far south as the 38th parallel. American forces occupied the southern portion. The U. S., Russia, Britain and China agreed to the establishment of a trusteeship by Russia and the United States pending the establishment of a democratic government. Russian obstructionism fouled the plan and separate governments were created, a Soviet-type state in the north, a democracy in the south under American tutelage. Russian occupation forces were removed in June 1949, only an advisory military mission left behind. A year later the North Korean army invaded the south.

South Korean forces were swept back. The United Nations sent troops from Japan. The United Nations condemned the aggression and lent its authority to the defense of South Korea. The first weeks were perilous, but aggression was turned and the North Koreans were pushed back across the 38th parallel. Then, on Oct. 7, 1950, the General Assembly adopted a resolution calling for the establishment of a unified, independent and democratic government in the sovereign state of Korea. The U. N. force pressed on, effectively whipped the North Korean contingents and was within sight of its objectives when the Communist Chinese government intervened and its "volunteer" armies across the Yalu River. After years of expensive and bitter fighting, the armies are locked at about the original 38th parallel.

The primary objective of the U. N. has been achieved in throwing back of the invasion. There can be little doubt that the unification resolution was meant to be achieved by force, as the secondary objective, but the complexity of the war was altered by the intervention of the Chinese.

The Communist-inspired civil war had become international and threatened to become global. In the face of the circumstances it hardly befits the South Korean government to cry betrayal because the Western allies are reluctant to prosecute the fighting to a conclusion acceptable to Korean patriots. Much Allied blood has been spilled and much more would have to be spilled to take the entire peninsula. South Korea has been saved from annihilation. It stands again at the 38th parallel. The Communist design in Southeast Asia has been lightened. The threat to Japan and Formosa has been lightened. A profound gain would be achieved by plunging ahead for months of war to extend the government of Dr. Rhee to the Yalu River? He would be no safer from invasion by the Chinese than he is now and general war might be exploded in the process.

The Korean issue is one of the many issues which can be solved only by a general settlement with the Soviet Union. Whether that settlement can be negotiated or whether it must be achieved by war is unpredictable, but certainly the Western powers can not permit Dr. Rhee to frustrate their basic policy and dictate alternatives.

Admittedly the Korean truce, if it is obtained, will be a negotiated conclusion and not the victory to which the United States has been accustomed in war. Admittedly it will cost us prestige in the Orient. But our past experience with war fought to unconditional surrender has not included the prevention of future wars. Perhaps a negotiated peace this time will not prove a greater disillusionment. It seems worth the trial and worth the saving in American lives. And if the bulk of American strength in Korea can be withdrawn and held in mobile reserve elsewhere we may be in a far better position to deter fresh Communist adventures than if we were tied down in attritive and bloody fighting on the Asiatic mainland.

—Fort Worth Star-Telegram

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is trying to be helpful on the cattle price situation, but we can't see that he succeeds. Dear editor:

I have been reflecting on the cattle market situation out here, and as you know the market has been pretty rough, not only on the cattlemen but also the bankers, as any banker who had a hundred dollars loaned on a two hundred dollar cow is now about in the cattle business with a seventy-five dollar cow and the grazing around most banks I've been in is pretty short.

Naturally, somebody ought to come to the rescue of us cattlemen and bankers, especially us cattlemen, and I don't know of anybody who's better equipped or had more experience than the government in Washington.

Now I've been thinking over how the government can do it, and it's not easy. A price support deal on grass might help, and I suppose there are experts in Washington who could work out a system where Bermuda grass could be supported at so much, Johnson grass at so much, needle grass at so much, etc., but the thing will be complicated as there's not much way to determine how much grass a pasture has been producing over the years, except to take my word for it, and some experts might not consider that reliable evidence. I always judge my pasture by the shape of my cows, when the bones begin showing I know the grass is playing out and if a neighbor's fence doesn't give before long the situation will get serious.

But the best system I've figured out is just a price support program for the cattle themselves. You buy a good Jersey steer for 18 cents a pound and keep it a year and sell it for 8 cents and there ain't no way on earth to come out ahead without going through Washington and picking up something on the way, and when it comes to a choice, Washington go in the hole or me, I always figured Washington was designed to bear the brunt.

Naturally, the program is gonna have to be a little different from the price support program for grain or cotton. The government can buy grain and hold it for a better price, but you try storing a cow and you run into all kinds of complications.

But I believe Washington can do it, and if it can't, that's Washington's worry, not mine.

I hope Congress will turn up the air-conditioning and really give some heavy thought to this problem. Me and my cows can't hold out much longer.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FARMER INVENTS DEVICE TO TRAP WATER IN SOIL

Keeping the moisture where it falls is the desire of most farmers who live in areas conscious of soil conservation. Murray Lievan, who farms 440 acres near White, S. D., and is of an inventive nature has found a way to do this.

He built a machine which dams the corn rows behind the cultivator and thus prevents speedy water runoff on sloping land. After last year's dry fall, Mr. Lievan is hopeful of saving every bit of rain that falls this spring.

Although simple, Mr. Lievan's device is effective. Two blades are fastened on a wheel which is hooked to the back of the cultivator. Mr. Lievan has applied for the patent rights.

The wheel rolls along until one of the blades hits the soil, which then mounds up until its weight becomes so great that the wheel passes over the top of the pile and rounds it off. The wheel is then free to make a second half turn before it repeats the mounding process.

Mr. Lievan has used the machine for the past four years in working the model to greater perfection and he is convinced that it does a good job in preventing soil erosion. The blades not only prevent gully washing between the rows, but they actually form a series of small pools held there to soak in slowly for moisture reserve.

When row crops are cultivated, the central valley between the rows is made up of very loose soil, free from root systems and therefore in prime condition to wash after each rain.

With Mr. Lievan's invention, the farmer can check this tendency to loose soil by creating the series of small dams across the furrow rows after each cultivation of row crops. The field thus will hold moisture until the crop roots have grown out into the cultivated area to form a network holding back moisture and soil for the rest of the season.

BENSON SEEKS STORAGE FOR CROP SURPLUS

One of the most urgent problems that the Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson is now faced with, is to find storage space for this fall's corn and wheat crop. Without this storage space, farmers cannot qualify for government loans on their crops. This would leave them without price support and probably mean the downfall of farm prices.

Mr. Benson and his six top aides made a trip to Des Moines to handle the problem personally in a six state conference with farm leaders.

The problem of storage for surplus wheat is so serious that the government has been forced to pour it into the holds of "mothball" fleet at Norfolk in the Hudson River.

Reduce Planting

Beyond this immediate problem of storage, is the question of how to get farmers to reduce next year's planting so that the government will not be swamped with still another surplus. Congress is offering some aid in this respect in a bill designed to make acreage reductions more plantable to the farmer.

Acreage Control

Under the present price support law, the imposition of acreage controls requires the approval of one-third of farmers voting on the proposal. If they do not agree to such acreage control, the government is then required by law to reduce the support level to 50 per cent of parity.

With present conditions what they are, this would be a drastic course. What the administration would prefer is to win the farmer over to some acceptable form of acreage control.

National Wheat Acreage

This new approach which is now being considered, is contained in a bill offered by a representative from Kansas, Clifford R. Hope, a Republican. It would make the cutback less drastic than that provided under the present law, by raising the minimum national acreage allotment for wheat from 55 million to 66 million acres. It would also restrict the Secretary of Agriculture from making a 25 per cent cutback, permit him to reduce acreage by only 15 per cent, and spread the remainder, if necessary, over succeeding crop years.

Lower Tariffs

Tied in closely with the entire problem was the Benson policy statement of May 31 which, in effect, was a plea for lower tariffs. "To give nations better opportunity to earn the dollars they need in order to buy the export products of American factories and farms."

Secretary Benson feels that a foreign market for American farm products is essential to continued farm prosperity. The decline of this market over the past year, by some 30 per cent, is a cause of grave concern to him and to the farm organization throughout the country.

Dairy and Grain Surpluses

While dairy products are piling up in government warehouses, and have been over the past six months or more, grain surpluses are now an even greater peril.

The government already has 258,551,000 bushels valued at $693 million in storage, and some 365 million bushels on which it has furnished loans totaling some $805,706,000.

As some farmers are able to sell their wheat, some of these loans will be redeemed. But when they cannot get a price for it which is equal to or better than the loan, they simply leave it on the government's hands.

The government already has $1,500,000,000 tied up and an additional $2,000,000,000 advanced on price-support loans. It has 244,645,000 bushels of corn in its possession, at a value of $393,892,000. Some 254 million bushels of the 1952 crop are under loan, for which the government has furnished $399 million.

Corn and Cotton

Best guess now is that by the first of October, the government will have in its possession some 600 million bushels of corn. Cotton also will become a problem with some 4,500,000 bales in hand and a 1953 crop of 13 million bales expected.

Thus, storage for this year's crops, a curb on next year's crops and an improved outlet in foreign markets are imperative before the new administration can even begin to think about developing its own farm legislation.

SOME RANDOM THOUGHTS

ON PEOPLE AND THINGS

AS HE VIEWS THE

PASSING SCENE

President Eisenhower is sadly in need of sympathetic counsel.

Without knowledge — and we might add comprehension — of the magnitude of the expense of running this government and the wasteful commitments of his predecessor, he promised by word of mouth or by implication to lower taxes and reduce expenses. Now common sense would convince any reasonable person that to accomplish either the two must be correlated and brought about together. Instead of working together for this end, his party is divided, one faction insisting on the promised reduction and the other insisting on more rather than less spending. Between the two the people stand to lose all relief and the administration lose the confidence once reposed in it. The administration is sadly in need of better teamwork.

President Eisenhower set a new precedent in American statecraft — or politics, if you prefer to so denominate it — when he and four of his cabinet members put on a television show in which the President acted somewhat in the role of interlocutor. David Lawrence takes a somewhat dim view of its possible effectiveness. He thinks an excellent chance was missed to explain the inability to balance the budget, cut taxes and extricate America from the Korean "mess," three accomplishments the American people had hopefully expected from the Eisenhower administration despite the known mess the Truman administration would be leaving for him to clean up. In simple words, Mr. Lawrence's gentle censure might be summed up in the President's own words as addressed to the Soviets:—"It is action and not words" the people want from the administration.

In the furore over Senator Taft's assertion that if there is no truce in Korea "we should forget the United Nations as far as the further conduct of the Korean War is concerned," it would be well to remember that, in so far as material help with men and munitions are concerned, we have been practically forgotten by our alleged allies from the beginning of the fracas. The only censure coming to Senator Taft is for delaying his admonition so long, and the real blame belongs to those in position to act and have not done so without having to be told.

David Lawrence, in whom President Eisenhower never had an abler or more ardent advocate and friend, is now unhappily disillusioned. He regards the President's letter to President Rhee of Korea as "the first admission of military defeat this country has ever made." He thinks the decision of Eisenhower has come three years too late, and "are the terms of a humiliating surrender and defeat." Its effect will be to destroy all hopes on the part of weaker nations that the United States will use force to protect them from aggression — a hope we had inspired by our affiliation with United Nations only to betray it, in the first serious test.

"It is a historic and fateful pronouncement — and it will profoundly affect the history of the United States as well as the whole world for a long time to come." What a sad come-down from the carefully nurtured hope of that "magic" power that was going to end the Korean war and bring our boys home!

The United Nations' plan for the unification of Korea seems to be a repetition of the lion and the lamb lying down together — with the lamb inside of the lion. In this case South Korea will be the lamb — and it seems fore-doomed to be first thoroughly masticated.

It is passing strange how wise (?) men disagree. Walter Lippmann rejoices in his column that "at long last the Korean war has been brought to a rational and honorable end." A few lines away, David Lawrence is equally positive that the terms are "a humiliating surrender and defeat." Meantime the fighting and dying goes on and politicians prate of "peace by political negotiation." Take your choice!

Defense Chief Wilson sees the Korean situation as "still pretty disturbing" and opines that people "will be a little disappointed that we can't bring the boys back home." Yes, "disturbing" indeed they must be with our erstwhile South Korean buddies joining the chorus, "Yankees, go home." Are we to have a repetition in Korea in 1953 of what we had in the Philippines in 1898?

We are treated to the anomalous situation of the Congress disagreeing over the matter of cutting $300 million dollars out of the funds to care for our own disabled veterans and cheerfully voting $5,474,000,000 for "foreign relief." What manner of statesmanship have we in Washington?

The defeat, on the 8th instant, of the proposal to retain the parking meters by a majority of 42 votes in a poll of 349, divided as follows, against 194, for 154, spoiled ballots 3, disclosed a three-way division of the town's people on the matter at issue. The "fors" and "againsts" registered their wishes in emphatic and understandable terms with the above stated result. But what is probably the larger of the three groups — possibly half of the qualified voters — is that of the silent ones who took no part in the election and by their silence manifested their willingness to accept whatever result the majority — for or against — handed them. In this view of the matter, the sentiment of the people must be truly considered as predominantly in favor of dispensing with the meters and returning to the time-honored practice of free-parking in whatever space is available. In the good American spirit of majority rule, we should so accept the decision and cheerfully abide by the decree at the ballot-box. To do so implies a studied observance of the rules of courtesy in all traffic and parking activities to the end that all inconveniences, not to mention hazards and dangers, be kept to the minimum. The meter company has had its try-out and should cheerfully and promptly remove its unsightly, and now useless posts and fill the holes so as to as nearly as possible cover up the scars in our side-walks.

Cheerful acquiescence to the expressed will of the majority is the saving grace of Democracy!

COTTON LOSSES IN 1952

BRYAN—Value of cotton kept out of production by pests in Texas in 1952 was approximately $18,783,000 less than in 1951, according to the National Cotton Council.

Releasing statistics based on the USDA final crop production figures for 1952, George G. Chance, chairman of the Texas state unit of the Cotton Council said cotton crop losses due to insect damage in Texas amounted to $100,932,000. This compares with $119,715,000 in 1951.

Because of boll weevils, pink bollworms, cotton aphids, thrips, and other pests, Texas cotton farmers last year lost an estimated 502,950 bales of cotton and 200,023 tons of cottonseed.

Cotton insects last year reduced the full yield in Texas an estimated 7 per cent.

Pink bollworms took a record toll in the Lone Star State, damaging cotton to the extent of $22,500,000.

Losses in the 16 major cotton-producing states totaled an estimated $389,768,000 as compared with $391,955,000 in 1951. Last year cotton pests claimed approximately 1,444,000 bales of cotton and more than 574,000 tons of seed.

Average reduction in full yield amounted to 6 per cent.

Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

Fleet operators, farmers, independent truckers—truck users everywhere—buy more Chevrolets than any other make. There can be only one reason for that: Chevrolet trucks offer more of what you want.

As the official registration figures keep rolling in, they keep telling the same positive story about truck popularity and truck value: Again in 1953, for the twelfth straight production year, truck buyers show a clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks. If you're a truck user, this fact is mighty important to you. Why? Well, as you know, trucks are built and bought for just one reason—to do a job. So isn't it logical then that since Chevrolet trucks outsell all others, they must do a better job at lower cost?

Texas Highway Patrol Seeks Young Men

Captain N. R. Smith who commands the San Antonio District of the Texas Highway Patrol, told the Anvil Herald today that he is conducting a search for young men in this area who would like to become Texas Highway Patrolmen.

According to Captain Smith, about 50 vacancies now exist in the Patrol Division of the Texas Department of Public Safety, and examinations will be given during July to fill them. In the meantime, applicants have until midnight of June 30th to file for the positions.

Captain Smith said that you are eligible for one of the positions if you can meet the following conditions: you must be a male, between the age of 21 and 35 years, inclusive; not less than 5 feet 8 inches in height; and weighing not less than 2 pounds or more than 3 1/2 pounds per inch of height.

You must have a high school education or its equivalent and must be a citizen of the United States and a resident of Texas for at least a year immediately prior to application. Finally, you must satisfactorily pass an exhaustive character and mental examination.

Salary of Patrolmen is $305 per month with $10 per month extra for each five years of service up to 15 years. An annual two-weeks paid vacation is afforded, and uniforms and equipment are provided to all members of the Patrol.

Captain Smith says that you can see him at 1414 North Brazos, San Antonio, for an application blank, or you may write directly to W. J. Elliott, Chief, Texas Highway Patrol, Austin, and request one.

Successful applicants will begin a two months training school in Austin in September before receiving their assignments to posts throughout the State.

Ranch House Ramblings

by
United Salt Corporation's
Range Reporter

Drought-stricken Texas stockmen watched the skies as mid-June rolled around while markets dragged, the Rio Grande ran bone dry, and the Federal Land Bank in Houston counted the second largest volume of loan requests for refinancing outstanding indebtedness in the bank's 37 year history. Laredoans, meanwhile, literally prayed for rain at a mass meeting in the city plaza.

Sporadic heavy runs of cattle, reflecting drought, were reported at Fort Worth and other central markets and prices continued to slump.

V. N. Johnson, vice president and treasurer of the Federal Land Bank, Houston, told Ranch House Ramblings that while the bank's 126 agency offices are turning in a near record volume of loan applications to refinance outstanding indebtedness, there is no jump in land sales. Demand for land of a year ago has diminished, he said.

The News Corral: Cattlemen this week were awaiting news from the Mexico City meeting that may mean a quick reopening of the border for Mexican cattle exportation following outbreak of hoof and mouth disease in Vera Cruz. Texas Hereford Association President, Henry Elder of Fort Worth, tells us that a Texas Register of Merit, like the American Association's score-board of high ranking sires and dams, becomes effective at the State Fair this fall and in shows to follow. Texas Shorthorn Breeders' President, C. M. Lusk of Houston, has returned from Honduras, where he delivered by plane, 10 head of Shorthorns to the Government there. Lusk enthusiastic about experiment station work of Honduras Government and U. S. fruit companies. Secretary Raymond Hollingsworth of The American Quarter Horse Association, Amarillo, tells us now over 38,000 horses are registered says it still takes $1,000 to buy a top, all-round using horse, and that one sold recently for $5,000. Texas wools selling in the 70- and 80-cent range, to a top of 85 cents. Brownsville to have a new pink bollworm research center in September. . . . Secretary Ezra Benson to attend the American Cotton Congress in Lubbock, June 25-27. Texas wheat farmers looking to a 30 million bushel crop, almost two-thirds of Annual Range Management school at the Ranch Experiment Station, Sonora, set for June 29 - July 16. Hill County Aberdeen-Angus Breeders field-day at Buhnet, June 20.

OUR NEW TEXAS LAWS

In a previous article mention was made of six of the eleven proposed Constitutional Amendments which will be voted upon by the people in November, 1954. The five proposals not previously covered are:

(1) Permitting the Legislature to determine the salaries of certain officials. The Constitution now sets the amount.

(2) Raising the limit of welfare expenditures for aged, blind, and needy children.

(3) Prohibiting the State from lending credit of the State to any individual, or corporation, etc., for toll roads.

(4) Permitting employees of the State and political subdivisions to be under the old age and survivors insurance of the Federal Social Security.

A Small Claims Court with reduced expenses and costs was created to handle claims up to $50; or, where a dispute is over wages or salaries, the claim can be as much as $100. The Justice of the Peace serves as the judges of this court.

There were also a number of new laws concerning juries and jury service. Only dentists, doctors, and attorneys in active practice may be exempt from jury service. (Formerly 21 different occupational groups could be excused). Jurors in the county and district courts and grand jurors will not receive between $4 and $5 per day, the exact amount being set by the county commissioners' court.

The commissioners' court may also provide that jurors in felony cases be fed and lodged by the sheriff in addition to receiving pay for their services. Changes were also made in the amount of fees collected by justices of the peace, the county courts and county courts at law.

When stock is found running at large they can be impounded and the owner required to pay a new fee for the keeping of the animals. The fee is graduated from 15 cents to $1 per head per day depending upon the type animal and whether impounded by a public pound or private individual.

It is now a criminal offense for cattle to be on a state or national highway. The provisions for stock law elections were also revised to permit elections concerning the confinement of a particular class of animal.

A number of changes were made in local government. A total of 126 laws were passed dealing with counties and county officers while 52 laws were passed dealing with municipalities; and 54 bills dealt with schools and universities.

Bills on water, municipalities, counties and schools made up a little more than 5 per cent of the total number of bills sent to the Governor for signature.

It is interesting to note that up to this time the Governor has vetoed only 7 bills that were sent to him by the Fifty-third Legislature. In 1951, he vetoed 35 bills, and in 1949, he vetoed 4 bills. As this is written, there are only 37 bills on the Governor's desk awaiting his action. By June 16th he must sign them or file them and let them become law without his signature or veto them.

The major bills which are awaiting his action as this is written are:

Two bills creating 5 additional district courts; three bills making changes in the teacher's retirement system; one revising laws and farm mutual insurance companies; providing a statute of limitations of 4 years for the collection of delinquent personal property taxes; several bills relating to local government and increasing the power of the county commissioners' court; one setting the salaries of court reporters; and several bills increasing the powers of school districts.

In these articles I have attempted to list the bills which, although important, have almost escaped notice. I cannot close without noting that of the 41 bills submitted to our office for opinions, almost half were held void for legal reasons.

I would recommend that the following steps be adopted by the Legislature to avoid legal pitfalls:

(1) Submit all bills to the Legislative Council or other Technical agency by November 15 before the January sessions, so that they could be printed and checked before the session by members and by the Attorney General.

(2) Print all debate by the members for later reference by the Legislature, the courts and the Attorney General. Only in this manner can the true legislative intent be determined.

(3) Take a two-week mid-session recess to return home and consult voters in their districts on major issues.

(A copy of any bill which you might desire may be obtained from the office of the Secretary of State, Austin, Texas.)

Heard About the Electric Weather Predictor?

Squint Smith built up quite a reputation last month by predicting the weather. What he said usually came true.

It got so that folks would sit around his little Antique Shop just to get his opinion.

Last Monday, though, he said he didn't know what the weather was going to be like next day. That surprised us and when we asked what happened, Squint said, "Slipped up on my electric bill and was turned off. I'll get to my radio again tomorrow though." Squint had been getting the weather over the radio—just like anyone else!

From where I sit, that's the way it goes with some "experts." They often don't have any more inside information than you can get for yourself. Like those who "know" cider is the only thirst-quencher after a day's work. Far as I'm concerned, I'll take a temperate glass of beer. But—I won't try to "predict" your choice for you.

Joe Marsh

Legislature Passes New Law For Chiropractors

Dr. Everett B. Vincent returned this week from Beaumont where he attended the 38th annual convention of the Texas State Chiropractic Association.

He said that more than 500 Chiropractic practitioners, their wives and guests attended the 3-day meeting, making it one of the largest in the history of the organization.

It was one of the most informative conventions in recent years, he said. During the three days instructions were given at six refresher and post-graduate courses in new methods, practices and healing techniques developed within the profession recently.

He said he also heard enlightening talks by a nationally-recognized authority in the field, Dr. W. G. Poehner of Chicago.

Explanation was also made of the provisions of the recently enacted amendments to the State Workmen's Compensation laws that enable compensation recipients to use the service of Chiropractors in back injury cases and other ailments originating in the spine. The new law was passed last month by the Texas Legislature and will go into effect in August.

Two Dallas insurance company executives were on hand at the convention to explain policies on claim filing and insurance procedure in general. Air Conditioning on wheels* comes of age!

NOW you can have a car that's as comfortable on hot days as your air-conditioned home, office or favorite theater.

Now you can ride in draft-free coolness at the temperature level you choose—even when the outside reading is 110° and more.

Now you can take a full complement of passengers through the thick of traffic on a sweltering day—and each one of you will keep looking and feeling fresh as a daisy at dewtime.

Air intakes on each side of car introduce outside air into system.

You do this with the compact Buick AIRCONDITIONER—the completely practical unit available at extra cost in 1953 SUPER and ROADMASTER Sedan and Riviera models.

But note this: what Buick put into its AIRCONDITIONER goes far beyond the usual.

For the advanced design of this Buick unit provides dual roof ducts that distribute up to 300 cubic feet of cooled, freshened, filtered, air per minute to all parts of the car interior evenly and constantly—without icy blasts and drafts on your neck, shoulders, legs.

Grilles in Buick's exclusive dual roof ducts insure draft-free distribution of conditioned air—and also provide individual control of air direction as desired.

What's more, these exclusive roof ducts have individually controlled air directors above the side windows. So each window-seat passenger can guide a gentle breeze of conditioned air exactly where he wants it.

Of course, the Buick AIRCONDITIONER is automatic.

You switch it on, choose the temperature setting you want—and that level of coolness is maintained constantly. It thoroughly conditions the air around you—automatically. It carries off heat, stale air, tobacco smoke—automatically. It continuously introduces outside air into the system—automatically.

Return air grilles on package shelf help maintain continuous circulation of conditioned, pollen-free air.

It's fast-acting, too. Even after an hour or more locked up under summer's hottest sun, the car interior can be brought to a delightfully cool comfort in a matter of minutes.

And it's really compact. The cooling unit itself fits neatly on a narrow shelf in the big trunk compartment—leaves plenty of room for luggage and the like.

Why not drop in on us and try a demonstration?

You'll find that the amazing Buick AIRCONDITIONER with its exclusive dual roof ducts is the ultimate comfort in hot-climate driving.
